Morning Oregonian.

VOL. XXII. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1884. NO. 7396.

WASHINGTON.

Senate Adopts Sweeping Land Grant Resolutions.

SENATE CONSIDERS THE ALASKA BILL.

Senate Introduces a Bill Providing for the Funding of Pacific Railroad Debts—Congressional Chit-Chat.

Republican Campaign Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The republican congressional campaign committee met this evening and made the following executive committee: Senator Logan, chairman; Senators Allison of Iowa and Plumb of California; Rogers of Pennsylvania, Hale of Maine, Goff, Davis and Harris. The executive committee will meet at the call of the chairman.

Washington Notes.

Ten thousand Winnebagoes, now upon a reserve in Nebraska, petition the secretary of the interior to allot them lands in severalty, as they may become citizens of this country.

Secretary Sherman presented to Washington today the issue of silver dollars for the week ending the 19th inst. at 2,224,077; corresponding same period last year, 1,800,000.

Arthur Goes to New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president leaves this afternoon tomorrow for New York to attend a reception tendered by the Union League Wednesday evening. He will be accompanied by Secretaries Frelinghuysen, Folger and Teller, and probably other members of the cabinet. Attorney General Brewster will join the party at New York.

Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president has nominated Worthington United States attorney for Montana.

Postmasters—Newton B. Barber, Corvallis, Oregon; Daniel A. Finnigan, Fort Benton, Montana.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A bill was introduced by Conger to confer brevet promotion upon army officers made on all the considerations of public duty, and to reduce the lifetime of patents to five years.

Hiscock—To provide for the adjustment of claims against the United States for the construction of railroads.

Hiscock—A resolution authorizing the commissioner of labor statistics to make an investigation of the causes of the death of Dr. Marcus Whitman and others in Oregon.

Hiscock, by request—To procure information relative to the demand and prices of American agricultural implements in other countries.

Van Horn—Changing the arsenal at Benicia, Cal., to a depot of construction and manufacture.

Hiscock presented a resolution, reported at the last session, requesting the president to inform the house whether it be true that several years past, maps, diagrams, etc., in the office of Brig. Gen. John Bartlett, have been submitted to cadets of each graduating class at West Point, for the purpose of inviting their criticisms and report of the findings of the general court martial held in pursuance of law. The secretary of war was requested, in case this be true, to inform the house by what authority or instigation the minds of cadets preparing themselves for positions of honor as officers are thus directed to discuss and criticise the official action of their lawful superiors, and if it is true, to suggest what the results would be if such a course of study and ordering of exercises were to become common in the military academies, whether officers, have been consulted or permitted to discuss the action of courts martial as expressions of opinion; and if such course of practice was perfectly proper, whether such action was not calculated to foster a spirit of insubordination among officers of colleges, and to make demoralizing and dangerous contempt for the authority of law.

Hiscock, of New York, objected to its present consideration, and Gibson to the reference.

Hiscock, chairman of the committee on expenditures in the department of justice, moved to suspend the rules and pass the resolution to increase the membership of that committee to nine, and authorize it to appoint a sub-committee composed of not less than three members.

Hiscock believed the present attorney general had honorable, judicious and honest in all operations, and that the expenses incurred in the other courts also would be investigated. His name had been associated with the star route trial last congress, and he (Hiscock) in reference to it spoke of Brewster from New York to St. Louis.

Hiscock—Of silver dollars for the week ending the 19th inst. of silver dollars for the week ending the 19th inst. of $2,224,077; corresponding same period last year, $1,800,000.

Arthur Goes to New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president leaves this afternoon tomorrow for New York to attend a reception tendered by the Union League Wednesday evening. He will be accompanied by Secretaries Frelinghuysen, Folger and Teller, and probably other members of the cabinet. Attorney General Brewster will join the party at New York.

Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The president has nominated Worthington United States attorney for Montana.

Postmasters—Newton B. Barber, Corvallis, Oregon; Daniel A. Finnigan, Fort Benton, Montana.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A bill was introduced by Conger to confer brevet promotion upon army officers made on all the considerations of public duty, and to reduce the lifetime of patents to five years.

Hiscock—To provide for the adjustment of claims against the United States for the construction of railroads.

Hiscock—A resolution authorizing the commissioner of labor statistics to make an investigation of the causes of the death of Dr. Marcus Whitman and others in Oregon.

Hiscock, by request—To procure information relative to the demand and prices of American agricultural implements in other countries.

Van Horn—Changing the arsenal at Benicia, Cal., to a depot of construction and manufacture.

Hiscock presented a resolution, reported at the last session, requesting the president to inform the house whether it be true that several years past, maps, diagrams, etc., in the office of Brig. John Bartlett, have been submitted to cadets of each graduating class at West Point, for the purpose of inviting their criticisms and report of the findings of the general court martial held in pursuance of law. The secretary of war was requested, in case this be true, to inform the house by what authority or instigation the minds of cadets preparing themselves for positions of honor as officers are thus directed to discuss and criticise the official action of their lawful superiors, and if it is true, to suggest what the results would be if such a course of study and ordering of exercises were to become common in the military academies, whether officers, have been consulted or permitted to discuss the action of courts martial as expressions of opinion; and if such course of practice was perfectly proper, whether such action was not calculated to foster a spirit of insubordination among officers of colleges, and to make demoralizing and dangerous contempt for the authority of law.

Hiscock, of New York, objected to its present consideration, and Gibson to the reference.

Hiscock, chairman of the committee on expenditures in the department of justice, moved to suspend the rules and pass the resolution to increase the membership of that committee to nine, and authorize it to appoint a sub-committee composed of not less than three members.

Hiscock believed the present attorney general had honorable, judicious and honest in all operations, and that the expenses incurred in the other courts also would be investigated. His name had been associated with the star route trial last congress, and he (Hiscock) in reference to it spoke of Brewster from New York to St. Louis.

Hiscock—Of silver dollars for the week ending the 19th inst. of silver dollars for the week ending the 19th inst. of $2,224,077; corresponding same period last year, 1,800,000.

CONGRESSIONAL CHIT-CHAT.

ANDERSON'S BILL REGARDING LAND GRANTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Thurman introduced by Anderson, the bill to repeal the act of March 3, 1871, which grants lands by congress to aid the construction of railroads, provides that the secretary of the interior shall not adjust the grants to the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Galveston, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads, but shall proceed to declare forfeiture as to the lands granted by the United States to the companies named, and shall restore the same to settlement, entry and sale, under the general laws of the United States, and such other laws as may be applicable thereto.

The following resolution was offered and agreed to: That the secretary of the treasury be directed to transmit to the senate copies of official reports from all treasury agents and collectors of customs, bearing date of March 1, 1883, or later, and relating in any manner to the subject of the classification of wool imported into the United States, and such further information as will enable congress to provide against such frauds.

Morgan offered the following resolution, which was agreed to: That in connection with foreign relations it is instructed to inquire into the subject of additional trading ports being established in the valley of the Congo river, Africa, and report any action that may be properly taken by congress or the executive in the furtherance of our commerce in that quarter, the committee to report by bill or otherwise.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The first to engage attention was the bill reported by the committee on private lands. It provides a method for perfecting title to lands lying within the line of territory received by the United States from Mexico. It provides that any person or corporation claiming lands under such lawful, though incomplete, spanish or Mexican grants, warrants, concessions or surveys of the United States in bound to recognize by virtue of treaties or custom, may petition the United States district court for the district in which the land is situated, setting forth the nature of the claim, and the court shall have full power to hear and determine the matter and fix and conclusive title.

George moved it to go over until members could have an opportunity to examine it. It seemingly him to contain very objectionable provisions.

Bayard reported a bill to amend an act already passed twice by the senate and carefully examined by members of the committee on private land claims, including one senator from Vermont (Edmunds).

Edmunds objected, however, to some amendments upon his own responsibility. Some provisions of the bill, he said, would be strongly opposed to the views of the people of this west and northwest, and some of the provisions were also objectionable. Some of its provisions, as Conger stated at the bill, were unjust and ludicrous. Notwithstanding the first final passage, and many amendments which he (Edmunds) proposed, there was no necessity for pushing it through now.

Bayard did not propose to notice the animadversions of the gentleman from Michigan (Conger), as every man in the senate and in the house understood the circumstances of the case connected with it. He (Bayard) had been introduced in the senate calculated to prevent rather than to promote strife. It was for the benefit of individuals and of the whole community of those strong enough to obtain indulgence for their passage, which would place great and valuable properties and quantities of lands in the hands of powerful individuals or corporations, to the destruction of small owners.

The bill was made the special order for Monday next.

The bill permitting retired army officers to hold civil offices in territories, passed, yeas 37, nays 11.

The establishment of civil government in Alaska was taken up. The bill provides for a governor, to be appointed by the president, with powers similar to those of governors of territories, to establish courts, etc. The amendment proposed in committee was adopted in the shape, making the laws of Oregon, as far as applicable to the laws of Alaska.

Wilson, pending any question on the bill, the senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL CHIT-CHAT.

ANDERSON'S BILL REGARDING LAND GRANTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Thurman introduced by Anderson, the bill to repeal the act of March 3, 1871, which grants lands by congress to aid the construction of railroads, provides that the secretary of the interior shall not adjust the grants to the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Galveston, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads. The following resolution was offered and agreed to: That the secretary of the treasury be directed to transmit to the senate copies of official reports from all treasury agents and collectors of customs, bearing date of March 1, 1883, or later, and relating in any manner to the subject of the classification of wool imported into the United States, and such further information as will enable congress to provide against such frauds.

Morgan offered the following resolution, which was agreed to: That in connection with foreign relations it is instructed to inquire into the subject of additional trading ports being established in the valley of the Congo river, Africa, and report any action that may be properly taken by congress or the executive in the furtherance of our commerce in that quarter, the committee to report by bill or otherwise.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The first to engage attention was the bill reported by the committee on private lands. It provides a method for perfecting title to lands lying within the line of territory received by the United States from Mexico. It provides that any person or corporation claiming lands under such lawful, though incomplete, spanish or Mexican grants, warrants, concessions or surveys of the United States in bound to recognize by virtue of treaties or custom, may petition the United States district court for the district in which the land is situated, setting forth the nature of the claim, and the court shall have full power to hear and determine the matter and fix and conclusive title.

George moved it to go over until members could have an opportunity to examine it. It seemingly him to contain very objectionable provisions.

Bayard reported a bill to amend an act already passed twice by the senate and carefully examined by members of the committee on private land claims, including one senator from Vermont (Edmunds).

Edmunds objected, however, to some amendments upon his own responsibility. Some provisions of the bill, he said, would be strongly opposed to the views of the people of this west and northwest, and some of the provisions were also objectionable. Some of its provisions, as Conger stated at the bill, were unjust and ludicrous. Notwithstanding the first final passage, and many amendments which he (Edmunds) proposed, there was no necessity for pushing it through now.

Bayard did not propose to notice the animadversions of the gentleman from Michigan (Conger), as every man in the senate and in the house understood the circumstances of the case connected with it. He (Bayard) had been introduced in the senate calculated to prevent rather than to promote strife. It was for the benefit of individuals and of the whole community of those strong enough to obtain indulgence for their passage, which would place great and valuable properties and quantities of lands in the hands of powerful individuals or corporations, to the destruction of small owners.

The bill was made the special order for Monday next.

The bill permitting retired army officers to hold civil offices in territories, passed, yeas 37, nays 11.

The establishment of civil government in Alaska was taken up. The bill provides for a governor, to be appointed by the president, with powers similar to those of governors of territories, to establish courts, etc. The amendment proposed in committee was adopted in the shape, making the laws of Oregon, as far as applicable to the laws of Alaska.

Wilson, pending any question on the bill, the senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned.

PACIFIC RAILROAD BONDS.

Senator Edmunds Introduces a Bill Providing for Their Gradual Redemption

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senator Edmunds (Vt.) to-day introduced a bill to amend the Pacific railroad act of July 1, 1862, and the several acts in addition thereto and July 2, 1864, provided for a settlement of claims growing out of the issues of bonds to aid the construction of railroads mentioned in the act, and reserving to the United States the first liens upon the roads and property granted and conveyed by said acts. Directs the secretary of the treasury to ascertain the amount of indebtedness of the several railroad companies to which bonds of the United States were advanced or aid in construction, the 1st of October, last, by calling to be computed the sum of the bonds and accrued interest on said bonds, first debt thing. However, there from accounts to be in the sinking fund to be paid, and to the United States by railroads or companies indebted, the appraisement of interest due and payable, and [illegible] to be made by the proper accounting officers of the treasury department, and shall be computed at the rate of 3 per centum per annum, and shall give the government the preference in the use of moneys to be derived from the sale of lands under the act of July, 1862, and shall make equitable provision for bonds for temporary loans, and for bonds issued to the companies, which have been lost or destroyed, and have not been paid, and shall be demanded from them, and a sum of the penalties or liabilities provided in the acts of 1862, and 1864, shall be incurred by or on account of said railroads, and by companies to the proper use of said bonds the said penalties will be sued and collected and the said debt payable until default in some of the provisions of this bill to be made and collected in the manner by which existing stand revised and continued for the purpose of this bill into effect.

The bill provides that it shall be found that bonds have been retained to be cancelled in case of the amount they are owing [illegible] to pay said bonds, and to which they were not lawfully entitled to, the sales shall be void. Innocent purchasers for value, have the right to have refund of the purchase money, and if they have exhausted their right to homestead or preempt it to they shall have the right to purchase the land from the government, and receive a deed from the executive in the furtherance of our commerce in that quarter, the committee to report by bill or otherwise.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The first to engage attention was the bill reported by the committee on private lands. It provides a method for perfecting title to lands lying within the line of territory received by the United States from Mexico. It provides that any person or corporation claiming lands under such lawful, though incomplete, spanish or Mexican grants, warrants, concessions or surveys of the United States in bound to recognize by virtue of treaties or custom, may petition the United States district court for the district in which the land is situated, setting forth the nature of the claim, and the court shall have full power to hear and determine the matter and fix and conclusive title.

George moved it to go over until members could have an opportunity to examine it. It seemingly him to contain very objectionable provisions.

Bayard reported a bill to amend an act already passed twice by the senate and carefully examined by members of the committee on private land claims, including one senator from Vermont (Edmunds).

Edmunds objected, however, to some amendments upon his own responsibility. Some provisions of the bill, he said, would be strongly opposed to the views of the people of this west and northwest, and some of the provisions were also objectionable. Some of its provisions, as Conger stated at the bill, were unjust and ludicrous. Notwithstanding the first final passage, and many amendments which he (Edmunds) proposed, there was no necessity for pushing it through now.

Bayard did not propose to notice the animadversions of the gentleman from Michigan (Conger), as every man in the senate and in the house understood the circumstances of the case connected with it. He (Bayard) had been introduced in the senate calculated to prevent rather than to promote strife. It was for the benefit of individuals and of the whole community of those strong enough to obtain indulgence for their passage, which would place great and valuable properties and quantities of lands in the hands of powerful individuals or corporations, to the destruction of small owners.

The bill was made the special order for Monday next.

The bill permitting retired army officers to hold civil offices in territories, passed, yeas 37, nays 11.

The establishment of civil government in Alaska was taken up. The bill provides for a governor, to be appointed by the president, with powers similar to those of governors of territories, to establish courts, etc. The amendment proposed in committee was adopted in the shape, making the laws of Oregon, as far as applicable to the laws of Alaska.

Wilson, pending any question on the bill, the senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL CHIT-CHAT.

ANDERSON'S BILL REGARDING LAND GRANTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Thurman introduced by Anderson, the bill to repeal the act of March 3, 1871, which grants lands by congress to aid the construction of railroads, provides that the secretary of the interior shall not adjust the grants to the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Galveston, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads. The following resolution was offered and agreed to: That the secretary of the treasury be directed to transmit to the senate copies of official reports from all treasury agents and collectors of customs, bearing date of March 1, 1883, or later, and relating in any manner to the subject of the classification of wool imported into the United States, and such further information as will enable congress to provide against such frauds.

Morgan offered the following resolution, which was agreed to: That in connection with foreign relations it is instructed to inquire into the subject of additional trading ports being established in the valley of the Congo river, Africa, and report any action that may be properly taken by congress or the executive in the furtherance of our commerce in that quarter, the committee to report by bill or otherwise.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The first to engage attention was the bill reported by the committee on private lands. It provides a method for perfecting title to lands lying within the line of territory received by the United States from Mexico. It provides that any person or corporation claiming lands under such lawful, though incomplete, spanish or Mexican grants, warrants, concessions or surveys of the United States in bound to recognize by virtue of treaties or custom, may petition the United States district court for the district in which the land is situated, setting forth the nature of the claim, and the court shall have full power to hear and determine the matter and fix and conclusive title.

George moved it to go over until members could have an opportunity to examine it. It seemingly him to contain very objectionable provisions.

Bayard reported a bill to amend an act already passed twice by the senate and carefully examined by members of the committee on private land claims, including one senator from Vermont (Edmunds).

Edmunds objected, however, to some amendments upon his own responsibility. Some provisions of the bill, he said, would be strongly opposed to the views of the people of this west and northwest, and some of the provisions were also objectionable. Some of its provisions, as Conger stated at the bill, were unjust and ludicrous. Notwithstanding the first final passage, and many amendments which he (Edmunds) proposed, there was no necessity for pushing it through now.

Bayard did not propose to notice the animadversions of the gentleman from Michigan (Conger), as every man in the senate and in the house understood the circumstances of the case connected with it. He (Bayard) had been introduced in the senate calculated to prevent rather than to promote strife. It was for the benefit of individuals and of the whole community of those strong enough to obtain indulgence for their passage, which would place great and valuable properties and quantities of lands in the hands of powerful individuals or corporations, to the destruction of small owners.

The bill was made the special order for Monday next.

The bill permitting retired army officers to hold civil offices in territories, passed, yeas 37, nays 11.

The establishment of civil government in Alaska was taken up. The bill provides for a governor, to be appointed by the president, with powers similar to those of governors of territories, to establish courts, etc. The amendment proposed in committee was adopted in the shape, making the laws of Oregon, as far as applicable to the laws of Alaska.

Wilson, pending any question on the bill, the senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned.

THE TEXAS PACIFIC LAND GRANT.

A Bill for the Forfeiture to be Recommended by the Committee on Public Lands.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The following committee on public lands had a meeting to-night at which a bill was agreed to. That the committee will report to the house a bill to declare a forfeiture of lands granted to the Texas Pacific railroad. The bill was prepared by the committee on private lands. The provisions declaring the forfeiture of lands granted to aid the construction of the railroad, providing for declaring valid and legal the acts of the legislature and the officers and local land officers, in permitting possessed entries, selections and purchases of land grants, and to quiet the title of such purchasers, and limit the period in which suits may be brought by the United States, to compel a settlement, the same as other public lands. The secretary is authorized to cause patents to be issued to the Texas Pacific railroad company the amount and it. Up to the same principles of adjustment the secretary of the interior is authorized to adjust grants and issue patents to the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic & Pacific, and the St. Joseph and Denver railroads. No more lands will be patented to any of the above companies until the forfeiture declared in this act as to the Texas Pacific bill is not completed within the time and upon the terms of the grant, all lands granted it which have not been earned or patented, will revert. To the lands granted to aid the construction of certain wagon roads in the United States, for open settlement, the same as other public lands. The secretary is authorized to adjust and issue patents to the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic & Pacific, and the St. Joseph and Denver railroads. No more lands will be patented to any of the above companies until the forfeiture declared in this act as to the Texas Pacific bill is not completed within the time and upon the terms of the grant, all lands granted it which have not been earned or patented, will revert. To the lands granted to aid the construction of certain wagon roads in the United States, for open settlement, the same as other public lands. The secretary is authorized to cause patents to be issued to the Texas Pacific railroad company the amount and it. Up to the same principles of adjustment the secretary of the interior is authorized to adjust grants and issue patents to the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic & Pacific, and the St. Joseph and Denver railroads. No more lands will be patented to any of the above companies until the forfeiture declared in this act as to the Texas Pacific bill is not completed within the time and upon the terms of the grant, all lands granted it which have not been earned or patented, will revert. To the lands granted to aid the construction of certain wagon roads in the United States, for open settlement, the same as other public lands. The secretary is authorized to cause patents to be issued to the Texas Pacific railroad company the amount and it. Up to the same principles of adjustment the secretary of the interior is authorized to adjust grants and issue patents to the Southern Pacific, the Atlantic & Pacific, and the St. Joseph and Denver railroads. No more lands will be patented to any of the above companies until the forfeiture declared in this act as to the Texas Pacific bill is not completed within the time and upon the terms of the grant, all lands granted it which have not been earned or patented, will revert. To the lands granted to aid the construction of certain wagon roads in the United States, for open settlement, the same as other public lands.

THE MEXICAN TREATY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The action of the senate to-day upon Senator Van Wyck's resolution to consider the Mexican treaty in open session does not reach the subject matter of the resolution, but simply refuses to fix a public session, which is the only way of getting the public to know whether the treaty itself will be considered in open or closed doors. The treaty was not taken up to-day, and probably will not be until friends feel confident of the ratification. The senate is to-morrow to progress to-day. Two absent senators are reported heard from upon the subject, one had paired, Jackson in favor, and the other, Ingalls, unpaired by friends, as being in favor of the treaty, declared himself opposed to it.

RESTRICTING THE TIME FOR TAR CLAIMS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A bill introduced in the house by General Shelby limits the time for presenting claims against the government arising from the late war, with the exception of pension claims, to two years from the passage of the act. Claims hereafter presented must be presented within six years from the time a right to them arises.

HUNTINGTON'S WANTS.

Representative Cobb Thinks the Railway Magnate Shows Too Much Effrontery.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—[Special.]—Representative Cobb of Indiana thinks that C. P. Huntington showed unusual effrontery in daring to appear before the committee on public lands, of which Mr. Cobb is a member, to oppose the passage of the Northern Pacific and Oregon railroad land grants. Mr. Cobb says that he (Huntington) was more interested in the subsidy of the Texas Pacific than by any other, and in view of opposition was that he was building a road on a parallel line by the central, Kansas and Pacific and Union Pacific lines to the Pacific coast. He is said in this connection to have used his influence with the president to prevent the passage of the bond bill. Huntington, in the meantime, had passed through Washington last week and had presided over a meeting of directors of the Texas Pacific railroad company, at which the bond bill was killed. However, there was an attempt to revive the bill, and to the United States for subsidies, but of which amount due and payable on said bonds, and finally compelling the said companies to pay the amount they are owing [illegible] to pay said bonds, and to which they were not lawfully entitled to, the sales shall be void. Innocent purchasers for value, have the right to have refund of the purchase money, and if they have exhausted their right to homestead or preempt it to they shall have the right to purchase the land from the government, and receive a deed from the executive in the furtherance of our commerce in that quarter, the committee to report by bill or otherwise.

The senate proceeded to the consideration of bills on the calendar. The first to engage attention was the bill reported by the committee on private lands. It provides a method for perfecting title to lands lying within the line of territory received by the United States from Mexico. It provides that any person or corporation claiming lands under such lawful, though incomplete, spanish or Mexican grants, warrants, concessions or surveys of the United States in bound to recognize by virtue of treaties or custom, may petition the United States district court for the district in which the land is situated, setting forth the nature of the claim, and the court shall have full power to hear and determine the matter and fix and conclusive title.

George moved it to go over until members could have an opportunity to examine it. It seemingly him to contain very objectionable provisions.

Bayard reported a bill to amend an act already passed twice by the senate and carefully examined by members of the committee on private land claims, including one senator from Vermont (Edmunds).

Edmunds objected, however, to some amendments upon his own responsibility. Some provisions of the bill, he said, would be strongly opposed to the views of the people of this west and northwest, and some of the provisions were also objectionable. Some of its provisions, as Conger stated at the bill, were unjust and ludicrous. Notwithstanding the first final passage, and many amendments which he (Edmunds) proposed, there was no necessity for pushing it through now.

Bayard did not propose to notice the animadversions of the gentleman from Michigan (Conger), as every man in the senate and in the house understood the circumstances of the case connected with it. He (Bayard) had been introduced in the senate calculated to prevent rather than to promote strife. It was for the benefit of individuals and of the whole community of those strong enough to obtain indulgence for their passage, which would place great and valuable properties and quantities of lands in the hands of powerful individuals or corporations, to the destruction of small owners.

The bill was made the special order for Monday next.

The bill permitting retired army officers to hold civil offices in territories, passed, yeas 37, nays 11.

The establishment of civil government in Alaska was taken up. The bill provides for a governor, to be appointed by the president, with powers similar to those of governors of territories, to establish courts, etc. The amendment proposed in committee was adopted in the shape, making the laws of Oregon, as far as applicable to the laws of Alaska.

Wilson, pending any question on the bill, the senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL CHIT-CHAT.

ANDERSON'S BILL REGARDING LAND GRANTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Thurman introduced by Anderson, the bill to repeal the act of March 3, 1871, which grants lands by congress to aid the construction of railroads, provides that the secretary of the interior shall not adjust the grants to the Leavenworth, Lawrence and Galveston, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads. The following resolution was offered and agreed to: That the secretary of the treasury be directed to transmit to the senate copies of official reports from all treasury agents and collectors of customs, bearing date of March 1, 1883, or later, and relating in any manner to the subject of the classification of wool imported into the United States, and such further information as will enable congress to provide against such frauds.

Morgan offered the following resolution, which was agreed to: That in connection with foreign relations it is instructed to inquire into the subject of additional trading ports being established in the valley of the Congo river, Africa, and report any action that may be properly taken by congress or

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 22, 1884.

WHY NOT ACT WITH THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY?

The East Oregonian requests THE OREGONIAN to answer "a few plain questions." But the questions are not altogether plain; at all events, they present different appearances and afford different solutions, when considered from different standpoints. It is desired, first, to know what is at present the political "issue," or subject of greatest public or national importance, and the questions of tariff, taxation, revenue, expenditure, honesty and economy in government, and the various phases of the liquor question, as prohibition and high license, are suggested. The eastern Oregon journal includes, however, to the view that tariff is the most important of all. Then since THE OREGONIAN has contended for tariff reform, it inquires whether the democratic party is not more likely to bring about that reform than the republican party; and if so, whether a paper which opposes unequal and unnecessary taxation in the name of protection ought to be discontinued? It will undoubtedly; it will hold only those who are thick-and-thin democratic partisans and act with the party in spite of its insincerity solely through the hope of partisan triumph. Nor is the attitude of the democratic party towards other questions, as civil service reform and regulation of the liquor traffic, more satisfactory. It would be hard to find in the history of the party, or in the composition of it, anything to suggest that it would be wiser to depend on it to restrain the sale of liquor and suppress the evils of the traffic, or to look to it to do away with the social doctrine in politics, than to depend for these things on the rival organization.

The appeal, then, to independent republicans to come into the democratic party is at less premature. They can effect more by maintaining their independent position as critics of both parties. So long as they keep this position their criticisms makes a great impression on the republican party; but should they abandon it so become democratic partisans they would have no weight whatever. Even as avowed democratic critics they could do little, since criticism does not much affect that party. It contains no great body of independent, conscientious opinion to which criticism may appeal. Caucus always rules with absolute sway, and the individual surrenders his judgment at the behest of party.

At the beginning of each session of congress the speaker appoints three regents of the Smithsonian Institute. The fact that Mr. Cox of New York has been superseded by Speaker Carlisle, has given offense to that gentleman, and is causing considerable comment among members of the house. Mr. Cox has been a regent of the institution since 1858, and has always manifested great interest in its progress. He was a member of the board of regents with Stephen A. Douglas, and when the death of that statesman occurred, he was selected to deliver an eulogy upon his life and services. Mr. Cox was also the orator selected by the board of regents to deliver an eulogy on the life and services of its late Professor Henry, and his reappointment at this time was requested by Professor Baird, president of the institution. The refusal of the speaker to reappoint Mr. Cox, in view of his long and valuable services, is attributed by the friends of Mr. Cox to the settled purpose on the part of the speaker to punish him for his attitude in the contest for the speakership. Following the refusal to give Mr. Cox the chairmanship of the foreign affairs committee a which he was entitled, this discretary a little less than personal rudeness.

The typographical union of New York recently forced prices of composition up to a point where the book and job printing business was threatened with serious calamity. The Journal of Commerce says "it is estimated that contracts to the amount of millions of dollars have been lost to New York firms during the last few months," in consequence of yielding to the demanded high prices. On the other side, it declares that because of this loss of business, "men who, before the strike, could make $18 or $26 per week now get about $8 on the increased rates which they compelled the employers to pay." That is to say, they killed the goose which laid the golden eggs." Now the employers have themselves combined. They may, at rates which are reasonable, give employment to the 500 or more printers now out of employment in the city of New York; if so, they will have done for them a service which the typographical union is unable to perform.

In an article on the affirmation of the high license ordinance of Portland by the supreme court of Oregon, the Sacramento Record-Union says: "There can be no question as to the growth of the high license sentiment through the country generally. Only the foolish will close their eyes to the fact. Whatever views a man may entertain relative to the liquor traffic, he should have the coolness and practical sense to look about him and observe, as he must, the rapid growth of the conservative temperance element."

Of the Nast trial the Pittsburg Dispatch says: "The case proceeds to the defense of Williams, not as to how the prisoner shall be saved, but as to how the law shall be most respected; and how he shall be most ordinarily cleared."

DANGER ON THE LEE SHORE.

The falling off in the amount of returns from the annual sale of pews at auction in Plymouth church, following so soon after the recent statements of Mr. Beecher and the assistant pastor in regard to the apparent loss in spirit and vigor of the church, must be taken as conclusive evidence of its weakening and dissipating condition. In considering the causes which may have led to this there is one of general interest, which illustrates a tendency whose prevalence is often ignored. During Mr. Beecher's trial his friends supported him with wonderful enthusiasm and devotion, which continued unabated for a long period. But like all kinds of enthusiasm it has inevitably yielded to the influence of time. It is another instance of the failure of continued energy, of which we have so many examples. Demosthenes complained of it among the Athenians of his day. The New York Nation holds it responsible for the ability of C. P. Huntington to corrupt congress, as his recently published letter to show that he did. Public indignation had expended itself upon the credit mobilier scandal, and just as it began to ebb Mr. Huntington came forward with more money and distributed it where it did him much good. Casual observers would have said that it would be impossible to approach a member of congress corruptly so soon after the storm of public denunciation which drove Mr. Brooks and Cakes Ames from the house. So would such an unreflecting observer have considered the city of New York practically insured for years against official plunder when Tweed and his ring were exposed and punished. And these conclusions would have been sound but for the fact that human nature is such that it cannot sustain a constant indignation and be kept always on the alert to frustrate the designs of evil men. "While the husbandman slept the enemy sowed tares in his field." It has been noticed as an unusual thing for a jury to convict two men in succession of murder in the first degree, when the evidence of guilt is equally strong in both cases. At the first trial the indignation and wrath principle of the court and jury are so apt to be incipient at least, exhausted that the second culprit stands a better chance of obtaining mercy. "Human nature is competent to attain heights which it is not competent to keep." And so in the case of Mr. Beecher's friends it was impossible that their devotion should bear up for a long time to make its march. Oregon has nearly eight months of good natural pasturage in every year, and should be able to make such butter and cheese as to exclude from her markets all foreign-made products. And now this introduction of eastern flour is (if the manufacturer really intends to keep it up) a direct slap at our industries and our tariff as manufacturers. It is only one incident, however, of the many revolutions in trade which the railroad is bringing about, and which our merchants, if they continue in business, must expect daily to encounter.

Mr. Talbot of Colorado, who had a short and sad experience in the United States senate, is said to be distributing handbills announcing himself a candidate for the presidency. This is not the way to do it. The country has never yet been known to elect a president who asked for the office from the platform or the newspaper, as is illustrated in the previous failure of Mr. Daniel Pratt and Mr. George Francis Train; and although the handbill would have the attraction of novelty, it may be doubted if it would be any more effectual. The true way is to wait for it, as Mr. George Francis Train has now discovered; and if it does not come, to reflect that the loss is that of the country more than of the candidate.

Governor Hoadley of Ohio, in his inaugural address says he does not think the liquor traffic law of that state—known as the Scott law—ought to be repealed. During the canvass preceding his election he dodged this question, and got the support of the entire liquor interest in the state on the promise of his party, which he allowed to go uncontradicted, that the claims of the liquor men would be supported by the party. One of the planks of the platform was devoted to condemnation of the Scott law.

"Col." Drake in his memorial to the supreme court, evidently forgot that he was not addressing a meeting of the free whisky ring, so he got his paper back with a reprimand that would set his ears a-tingling if they were at all sensitive. The whisky ring and its spokesman ought ere this to have learned that they can't intimidate anybody.

James Russell Lowell.
London World.

An unpretending home in a quiet London square painted that dull red color—an American importation, by the way—in which we are now so familiar in the west end districts of the metropolis, it is the residence of a man of letters, reputed the wisest outside of the west, over which the sun takes four hours to rise, and which stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific. There is nothing sulfurandaric in his surroundings. The arms of the United States are nowhere conspicuously emblazoned, as would be those of some petty German state. Mr. Lowell is not approached through a richly chiseled and gilded staircase. You are introduced by a man-servant out of livery into a fit room on the ground floor, at the back of the house, which contains a few well filled bookshelves, a writing-table covered with papers and letters, while a few simple engravings here and there cover the walls. Seated in an easy-chair reading a slight, spare man (with a profusion of curling hair and beard) in whom I recognize at once. His manner as he rises to greet you is singularly quiet and unruffled, and, though he has made the Yankee die out of New England immortal, cannot detect in the tones of his voice the slightest trace of Americanism. He has long passed his sixtieth birthday, having been born in the same year as Queen Victoria, yet it is impossible to regard him as old. He reminds of nothing so much as the beautiful Indian summer of his native land, differing only from midsummer in its more mellow tints, the subdued tints of the foliage, and the still, dreamy air which you instinctively feel they are the harbingers of coming winter. Taking a well-covered clay pipe in one hand from the mantelpiece to smoke, and hands his visitor a box of cigarettes. Leaning back in his chair, he tarries toward you his full, deep, gray eyes, at once youthful and penetrating, and seems more inclined to listen than talk. The conversation drifts from one subject to another, and I perceive at once what a child-like interest him in what that you catch a momentary glimpse of the vast knowledge, the rich cultivation, the genius and power which have made for him so great a name on both sides of the Atlantic.

Enclose 10 cents and this advertisement of our pattern for one of this valuable, for the illustrated CHROMOSTAR. The best medium to circulate it. Address

MEETING NOTICES.

Attention, A. O. H.—The members of the County Board, and also the committee of Division Nos. 1, 2 and 3, are requested to meet at Caledonia hall this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of selling arrangements for the reception of the Hibernian national picnic boat, Mr. Thos. R. Brennan. All visiting members of the order are invited.

M. J. BLEASON, County Delegate.

Multnomah Engine Co. Benevolent Association.—All members are requested to meet at the house of Engineer A. F. M. Lownsdale, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, and see funeral of A. E. Fisher. H. A. NEIDACH, Sec.

Portland Liberal Humanian Society.—Special meeting at Bush hall this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, for the important consideration of the by-laws of the Society. W. J. KELLY, Secretary.

Advertisements such as "Wanted," "For Rent," "For Sale," etc., will be inserted for ten cents per line first insertion, five cents per line thereafter. No insertion for less than ten cents, and cash must be paid in the counter. Deaths, Marriages and Births fifty cents each. Resolutions of Condolence ten cents per line. All transient advertising payable in advance.

DIED.

At Salem, Jan. 21, Flora, wife of J. C. Meagher, a native of England, aged 34 years, 8 months, 18 days.

At the general hospital, Jan. 21, M. Jens, from corner of Third and Stinson. Private, Nevada and Arizona papers please copy.

R. H. Schwab & Bro., Artistic Printers, have removed to 5 Washington street.

NEW TO-DAY.

NEW PIANOS FOR RENT AT KOHLER & CHASE'S, 138 Third street. 1[illegible]

ENGRAVING ON WOOD, SILVER AND GOLD, at the School of Design, cor. First and Main. 8[illegible]

BARGAINS—ON ACCOUNT OF MY EMBARKASSMENT [illegible] offer some superior bargains. M. E. RANKIN, No. 3 Washington st. 29[illegible]

RESTAURANTS, HOTELS AND PRIVATE families can find fresh, imported Swiss, Cream and French Cheese, German Pickles, sauerkraut and choice Groceries at Morrison st. MRS. E. HAAG.

THE ENGLISH WATCHMAKER IS in Portland, Cartwright, late with E. I. Stone, Yamhill street, one door from First. Punctuality and good work. 26[illegible]

H. R. ALDEN, M. D.,
DENTIST.
Removed to Lubbe's Block, Fourth Floor,
(Take the elevator.) 7[illegible]

TACOMA.
Ferry's Addition to Tacoma is the only centrally located addition on the market. The land lies handsomely, so something splendid views. Lots for sale at reasonable figures and easy terms. For particulars apply to
C. F. FERRY, 27 Stark st.

INSURANCE AGENCY
OF
GEO. L. STORY
REMOVED to No. 7, north side Stark street, between First and Front sts.
AGENCY OF
PHOENIX, OF LONDON. 2[illegible]

AUCTION SALE
AT THE
WHITE HOUSE
CONTINUES DAILY FROM 1 TO 4 P. M. FRIDAY sale before and after each day's auction at lowest prices. 1[illegible]

A. B. RICHARDSON, AUCTIONEER.

POSITIVE SALE
OF
Fine Household Furniture.

I will sell on the premises, No. 161 East Park st., bet. Morrison and Yamhill sts.,
ON WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23,
At 10 o'clock A. M.

One Elegant Black Walnut Parlor Set;
1 Fine Mirror, 1 Whatnot, 1 Center Table
Fine Engravings, 150 yds. Brussels Carpet.
ALSO
3 Fine Bedroom Sets, Hair and Spring Mattresses, Feather Pillows and Bolsters, Blankets
Sheets and Pillow Slips.
ALSO
1 Elegant Extension Table,
6 Fine Black Walnut Dining Chairs,
1 Fine Lounge, 1 French Clock,
Crockery and Glassware, Plated Castor,
Knives, Forks and Spoons,
1 Fine Kitchen Range and Fixtures.
A. B. RICHARDSON, Auctioneer.

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
Effectually Cleanses the Head of Catarrhal Virus, causing Healthy Secretions. It allays Inflammation, protects the Membranous Membranes from additional colds, completely Heals the Sores and Restores the Sense of Taste and Smell. A quick and pleasant cure. Thousands on the list of those who testify to its wonderful power. Not a Liquid or Snuff. A few no question necessary. Agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists or by mail. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Owego, N. Y.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE PRICE 50 CENTS ELY BROS. OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

NEW TO-DAY.

BOARD BY WEEK OR MONTH, AT 6 D. Sign of sheaf, bet. First and Fourth sts. 2[illegible]

TO LET—A COMFORTABLY FURNISHED room. Inquire at 105 South st., near Salmon. 2[illegible]

$400 TO $[illegible] BUSINESS CHANCES; ALL kinds. DAVIES & CO., Stark st. 2[illegible]

WANTED—A THIRD CLASS DRESSMAKER, in a small family. 209, Park, bet. Ankeny and Burnside. 2[illegible]

TWO CASH BOYS WANTED IMMEDIATELY. SULLIVAN & CO'S. 2[illegible]

GIRL WANTED FOR LIGHT HOUSEWORK. Call on or send [illegible] Morrison st. 2[illegible]

WANTED—BY A LADY, A SITUATION AS nurse to [illegible]; can be highly recommended. Call at 105 Front st. 2[illegible]

A GIRL OR LADY WANTS A PLACE IN a small family to cook or housekeeping. Address M. E. P., this office. 2[illegible]

WANTED TO PURCHASE OR LEASE, FOR business purposes, corner preferred. Address, stating location and lowest terms, "C. W.," this office.

THREE HANDSOMELY FURNISHED ROOMS, one suite, for gentleman and wife, or two gentlemen. Call at 54 Caroline st., between Front and [illegible].

TO LET—AN ELEGANT FURNISHED FRONT room, with bay window, at 76 Second st., between Washington st. and Taylor, third floor. 2[illegible]

THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR HOUSEkeeping, suitable for gentleman and wife. Apply at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

$700 EVERYWHERE WANTED, MANUFACturing business keeps hands busy; no [illegible]; sells at sight; [illegible] Co., Boston.

SITUATION WANTED BY A YOUNG MAN who is willing to do any thing; salary no object. P. O. Box [illegible].

FOR SALE—A DESIRABLE VACANT CORNER on Hall street, between Park and Twelfth; a good bargain. P. C. LOWNSDALE, Agent, No. 6 Washington st.

FOR SALE—A HANDSOME HALF BLOCK IN the Hallidayet Addition, the best building location in the city; cheap and on easy terms. P. C. LOWNSDALE, Agent.

TO RENT—PROPERTY OWNERS WILL RENT to responsible parties at a large reduction on the following: Well and pump at the corner of Front and Jefferson; also the well and pump in front of the property on the west side of Front, between Jefferson and Columbia. Apply at 54 Front st.

FOR SALE—A FINE BUILDING LOT ON Harrison st., between Park and Twelfth, 50x100 feet; a bargain. P. C. LOWNSDALE, Agent, No. 6 Washington st.

LOST—FROM THE CORNER OF SEVENTH and Hoyt, a Red Irish setter dog, six months old. A reward will be paid for the return of the same to the stable on Hoyt. 2[illegible]

FOR RENT—THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS for rent, first floor; pay within four months' rent. Inquire at 54 Front st. 2[illegible]

IF YOU WANT MONEY, LEAVE your address at 54 Front st., and I will call on you. Private parties can also leave their address. 2[illegible]

FOR SALE—A FARM OF 20 ACRES, IN OR of which is under cultivation, situated in Yamhill county, on the Yamhill river; good improvements; will sell on easy terms. Call on or address Sam'l Hamilton, Dietrich's Ferry. 2[illegible]

TO RENT—THREE UNFURNISHED ROOMS for housekeeping, also one large front room, furnished, with fire; suitable for gentleman. 52 Fourth st., near Pine.

FOR SALE—A DESIRABLE PIECE OF BAY property; lot 50x100 in Albina, with two new double houses; lot fenced and well set to fruit trees. An opportunity for a small profitable investment. Price $1,600. P. C. LOWNSDALE, Agent, No. 6 Washington st.

FOR SALE—THE OLDEST DRUG AND MEDicine store in Marshfield, Coos Bay, at the same stand [illegible] doing more business than any other store in Southern Oregon. Stock about $5,000. Reasons for selling, ill health of proprietor, who is 72 years of age. Push and success to the right party, and the store can be run [illegible] Address [illegible] Marshfield, Coos Bay, Oregon. 24 Nov 3

SHOW CASES.

DRONBERGER'S CO., MANUFACTURERS, 82 Front st., Portland. Country orders solicited.

Parke Agency, Beach Lock.

Corner First and Washington—P. O. Box 3061

$300 RESTAURANT WORTH $700 MUST be closed out to-day, to satisfy mortgage; [illegible] chance. PARKE AGENCY.

Special Notice.

Pitt & Thatcher, Real Estate, Money and Mining Brokers, have REMOVED to the most convenient corner of First and Washington sts.

Mining Deeds on hand and conveyances made by R. D. Pitt, Commissioner of Deeds for Idaho and Montana.

Special Notice.

Pitt & Thatcher are selling Tacoma lots faster on each purchase that will explain soon. Only a few more lots left, but just as good as those sold

N. P. R. R.

Northern Pacific Railroad Board of Directors have ordered that Tacoma be the Terminal City.

Tacoma lots, block and lots, close to the business center, for $50 and $75 cash on the installment plan of $5 per month. Apply to
PITT & THATCHER,
Corner First and Washington streets.

Coeur d'Alene Mines. Rathdrum the nearest rail and point, where great excitement exists to-day. Price of lots $50 and $75 cash. Apply to
PITT & THATCHER,
Corner First and Washington streets.

Acknowledgments and Conveyances for Washington Territory, Idaho, California and all other States and Territories made by R. D. PITT, Notary and Commissioner of Deeds.

FOR LEWIS RIVER
THE STEAMER [illegible] will leave Albert st. for Lafayette and way ports Thursday, Jan. 24, at 7 A. M. No freight received after 5 P. M. Tuesday. 2[illegible]

ICE AND ROLLER SKATES,
Fresh Stock Just Received.
ORDERS FILLED PROMPTLY.

Sporting Powder.

We are Sole Agents for WARREN POWDER MILLS, Warren, Maine, and have just received a large stock by N. P. R. R., for which we solicit orders from the trade.

DAYTON, HALL & LAMBERSON
94 First st., Portland, Or.

NEW TO-DAY,
Men's Neckwear
AND Warm
Underwear.
F. E. PAGE,
Commission Merchant,
Fruit, Feed, Produce & Provisions.
STORAGE.
120 Front St., cor. Washington, Portland.
Warehouse, Central Dock. 2[illegible]

ASSIGNEE'S SALE
OF
CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, ETC
Will be continued
This Evening at 7 o'clock,
AT NO. 67 MORRISON STREET,
AND
MONDAY AT 10 and 3 o'clock.
GILMAN & CO., Auctioneers.

REGULAR AUCTION SALE
OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE
ETC., ETC., ETC.

We will sell by auction at our sales room, No. 6 First street,
TUESDAY, JAN. 22, 1884,
At 10 o'clock A. M.
Extensive Line of Household Furniture, Carpets, etc.

N. B.—This sale affords an excellent opportunity to purchasers.
GILMAN & CO., Auctioneers.

WANTS.

WANTED—A FEW PUPILS, TO LEARN RED. manson and Arabesque embroidery. Apply 231 Stark.

WANTED—TO RENT, A SMALL COTTAGE OF four or five rooms, furnished or unfurnished; would buy some furniture. Address R. D., this office, stating lowest price. 2[illegible]

HELP WANTED.

COMPETENT NURSE-MAID WANTED—MUST have good references. Apply at 53 south st., near Bar-ton, bet. third and [illegible]

GIRLS WISHING EMPLOYMENT PLEASE call on Mrs. L. S. HARRIS'S corner of Howard and Ensley road, at Albina. 2[illegible]

SITUATIONS SECURED FOR FEMALE HELP. Persons wishing help please call. SHERMAN & FERRIS, 21 Fourth st., near Salmon. 2[illegible]

CHINESE HOUSE SERVANTS AGENCY. Latest arrivals from China. Address KING, ISLEY Oregonian office. 2[illegible]

WANTED—EMPLOYMENT.

AN EXPERIENCED SALESWOMAN AND bookkeeper understands both; references given; would like to go in the country. Address "Saleswoman," this office.

YOUNG MAN OF 25, SOBER, INDUSTRIOUS, of good habits and good recommendations, desires a situation of any kind in Portland. Address "A. B.," Oregonian office. 2[illegible]

AGENTS WANTED.

WANTED—A GOOD CANVASSER AT FOUR dollars a day and expenses. Apply at 54 Front st. 2[illegible]

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN AND county in this coast; no peddling; goods delivered; salary and expenses paid; terms address A. COMAN 10 and 11 Market, San Francisco, Cal. 2[illegible]

WANTED IMMEDIATELY—ACTIVE, WIDE-awake men to canvass for a new and popular subscription book; a rare chance for the right men; will pay liberal salary. Address A. L. BANCROFT & CO., San Francisco, Cal. 27 Dec 3

AGENTS WANTED—TO WHOM WE WILL give a liberal salary for experience not required. Address M. & CO., Box 1442, St. Louis, Mo.

AMERICAN HOUSE AND FARM CYCLOPEDIA. Most complete work published. Agents wanted in every county. Address H. C. HALL & CO., Portland, Me.

WE WANT AN AGENT IN EVERY TOWN and county in the United States to take orders for our Fine Teas, Coffees and Spices. Liberal inducements; a rare chance for the right party. Address, with stamp, for full particulars, THE GREAT AMERICAN TEA CO., 145 Second st., Portland, Or.

AMUSEMENTS.

Grand Concert!

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 25, 1884.

Mrs. C. W. J. DENICK ..... Soprano
Mrs. K. E. INGERSOLL ..... Soprano
Mrs. J. R. WYATT ..... Contralto
S. C. MARDEN ..... Tenor
H. KEPPLER ..... Bass
MISS [illegible] ..... Miss L. KOHLER
Miss CORA PACKARD
Organist ..... HUGH L. CHERRY

Concert under the direction of W. H. Kinross

Tickets for sale at Gardner Bros'., Skidmore & Cole's and W. B. Allen & Co's. Admission—One Dollar. 2[illegible]

NEW MARKET THEATER.
F. W. STEGHMAN, MANAGER.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 21st,
Engagement of the Versatile Actress,
NELLIE BOYD!
Supported by Miss Helen Actress of Note and Judged ability in all the latest and most successful creations of the day.

Monday Evening, the Greatest of all Comedies,
SOLOMON ISAACS!
Tuesday Night the Great Emotional Drama,
ARTICLE 47!
ENTIRE CHANGE OF BILL NIGHTLY.
NEW SCENERY ..... NEW PLAYS!
The Own Elegant Silver Cornet Band and Superb Orchestra.
MATINEE SATURDAY AT 2 P. M.
Admission as usual. Reserved seats now on sale at Cornish's drug store.

GRAND CONCERT AND BALL TO BE GIVEN BY
The Portland Philharmonic Society
—AT—MASONIC HALL,
On the Eve of
BURNS' ANNIVERSARY,
Thursday, Jan. 24, 1884.

The following ladies and gentlemen will take part in the concert:

Mrs. [illegible] ..... Ballad | Miss Jennie Maire ..... Song
Mr. E. Richter ..... Violin Solo | Miss [illegible] ..... Song
Andrew Rothwell ..... Song | Mrs. McCue ..... Recitation
Mrs. [illegible] ..... Ballad | Mr. [illegible] Fling ..... Violin Solo
D. A. Morris ..... Double Song | Miss Mosser Barker ..... Song
Wm. Purchill ..... Song | Mrs. Sherrock ..... Ballad
Mrs. [illegible] ..... Song | Mrs. E. Kaiser ..... Song
Capt. [illegible] ..... Song | Miss Nettie Smith ..... Song

Tickets admitting gentleman and ladies, $1.
2[illegible] A. M. DONALDSON, Chief
D. A. MACRAE, Secretary.

For a Full and complete assortment of Zephyrs, Yarns, Wools, Canvas, Felts, Plushes, Cordilles, Cottons and Linen Materials, Silks, Embroidery and Knitting Silks as well as anything in the Fancy Work line,

GOLD AND SILVER MATERIALS

—FOR—
MASQUERADE AND SOCIETY USE,
Call or send to
P. Hartman & Co.
Cor. Third and Washington.

Orders in the country can send for standing cuffs, with full instructions, for $7.50, $10, $15, $20 and $25. Send circular C. O. D. or cash per postoffice money order.

W. N. WALLACE & CO.
Druggists and Apothecaries
Lubbe's Building, Washington Street, between First and Second.
PURE DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.
Choicest Toilet Articles and Perfumery.
Prescriptions prepared with the utmost care both day and night. Telephone

You will find at the PACIFIC TEA CO'S,
Third and Pine sts., the Finest Assortment of Teas, Coffees, Spices & Chocolates.
FANCY BOXES and BONBONS FROM PARIS FOR HOLIDAY PRESENTS.
H. F. TYSON & CO. converse in French, German Scandinavian, Spanish and Italian with customers.

PORTLAND BUSINESS COLLEGE,
S. E. COR. FIRST AND YAMHILL STS.,
Portland, Oregon.
Students
Admitted at any time.
Circulars giving information of course of study, free. Address P. P. CAMPBELL, Look Box 146.

FEED! We have been appointed agents for the sale of Feed for the SALEM FLOURING MILLS CO.,
OREGON CITY FLOURING MILLS CO.,
PORTLAND FLOURING MILLS CO.
In quantity to Dealers a specialty.
EVERDING & FARRELL, Portland, Or.

The largest stock of FIRE ARMS of all kinds ever brought to the state are now offered for sale at greatly Reduced Prices. Winchester Rifles, 22c; Marlin's Repeating Rifles, 22c; Ballard Double Shot Guns, with all improvements, $15; Three-barrel Guns, $20; Cartridges, powder and lead at REDUCED PRICES. WM. ROSS & SON, 165 Second st., Portland, Or.

NEW SHOE HOUSE.
MOFFETT & ANDRUS,
61 Washington St.
An Entire New Stock Ladies, Misses and Gents'
BOOTS AND SHOES
Received: latest from Eastern Manufacturers.
WHOLESALE GOODS IN STOCK. 2[illegible]

TO LET—ROOMS.

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM WITH PIANO suitable for one or two gentlemen, 249 Front st., Shelling. 13 N. Fifteen.

FURNISHED BAY WINDOW SUITE WITH [illegible] Free use of piano. 206 Front st. 1[illegible]

FOR RENT—TO GENTLEMEN, FINE SUNNY FURnished rooms, [illegible] 140 Fourth st., next to Republican office. 2[illegible]

FOR RENT—LARGE AND SMALL ROOMS AT the Pacific Hotel, centrally located, near postoffice and depot. Rates reasonable. 2[illegible]

UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPing, in First street, new house, central location, with [illegible] and sidewalk finished. Apply to premises, 169 Second st. 1[illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPING. Private family, [illegible] Apply at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

FURNISHED ROOMS, [illegible] 205 First st. 2[illegible]

TO LET—THREE ELEGANT FURNISHED rooms, [illegible] Apply at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

TO LET—FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH OR without board, at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

TO LET—FURNISHED ROOMS, [illegible] Apply at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

TO LET—NICELY FURNISHED FRONT ROOM, with use of bath and other conveniences, for gentlemen only. [illegible] Apply at 53 Yamhill st.

TO LET—HOUSES AND STORES.

[illegible] A HOUSE, FIFTH NEAR COLLEGE, with all modern improvements. Apply at 209 Hoyt, 1st Morrison st., near 5th. 2[illegible]

HOUSE FOR RENT—SEVEN ROOMS, MAIN-ing, Albina. Apply 2[illegible] st.

FOR RENT—LOOKING GLASSES OF 2 [illegible] Also for sale, [illegible] of Wilhelm Carvings. Bed st. 2[illegible]

FOR RENT—STANDARD SCALES OF 5,000 lbs. capacity, [illegible] Apply at 209 Hoyt, 1st Morrison st., near 5th. 2[illegible]

ROOMS AND BOARD.

FURNISHED ROOMS WITH FIRST-CLASS board, [illegible] Fourth street, corner of Washington. 2[illegible]

LOST.

LOST—ON S. MINE HILL, ENGLISH SETTER dog, answers to the name of Jack. A reward will be given for his return to 264 Third st. 2[illegible]

"SEE THE BOSS EXIT"
AND
"SEE THE BOSS ENTER"
FLOURS!
Manufactured from the Choicest Wheats of the Willamette valley, especially for BAKERS, FAMILY and EXPORT Trade.
Also the new
PORTLAND ROLLER MILLS FAMILY and BAKERS' FLOUR.

The latter company, having due valed facilities, for milling to substantiate their [illegible] Wheats of the entire Northwest Empire, and [illegible] most approved process of milling, guarantees Families and Bakers [illegible] Flour, as [illegible] for EXCELLENCY and EXCELLENCE it will be found unsurpassed by any superior, to any other brand in the market.

TRY IT! TRY IT!

For sale at Wholesale and Retail by the leading houses in the trade, and by

SUESON, CHURCH, & CO.,
Special Agents.
PORTLAND, OREGON.

THE Leading and Most Fashionable
BOOK OF PORTLAND.
Manufactory and Warerooms:
27 Morrison Street, Near First.
SALESROOMS:
133 FIRST STREET.
(Entrance through both stores.)
CLOAKS, SUITS MADE TO ORDER AT SHORT NOTICE.
Prices reduced. Dresses, Cloaks, etc., sent to any part of the country with privilege of examination, or made to order from measure.
All Wool Suits, from $12, $12, $15 and $18.

SPECIAL
Clearance Sale
Commenced Monday, Jan. 7.

In order to make this sale a complete success, our prices on all kinds of JEWELRY, Silverware, Etc.,
Will be so low that we are confident we can close out the entire stock before March 1st, to MAKE ROOM FOR SPRING STOCK.
ALL GOODS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES.
INSPECTION IS CORDIALLY INVITED.

EASTERN PAPER WAREHOUSE.
THE TRADE.
IMPORTING STATIONER & BLANK BOOK MANUFACTURER,
NO. 80 FIRST STREET, PORTLAND, OR.
CONTRACTOR FOR EARLY & FULL SUPPLY OF BLANK BOOKS,
Envelopes, Lithographic
PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, PASS BOOKS, CARDS, &c.
BLANK BOOKS OF ANY DESCRIPTION MADE TO ORDER AT SHORT NOTICE.
Envelopes, Lithographic
PAPER WAREHOUSE
BOOK, NEWS, MANILLA, TARPAPER AND STRAW PAPERS, CARD STOCK
FINE WRITING AND PLAT PAPERS, ALL SIZES OF ENVELOPES AND WEIGHTS OF PAPER.
PAPER WAREHOUSE
PORTLAND, OR.

SMELT SMELT
COLUMBIA RIVER SMELT,
The favorite fish of the northwest will arrive in a few days. I will be prepared to fill all orders from city or country, wholesale or retail.
CHAS. A. MALARKEY,
Cor. Fourth and Morrison Sts. 1[illegible]

SEED OATS.
For Sale—a small lot of very choice Shortfellow oats, grown from imported seed.
W. DURHAM,
19 1m [illegible] 87 and 89 Front st., Portland, Or.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A GENERAL MERCHANDISING business in a thriving town. Address "A. B.," Oregonian office. 1[illegible]

FARMINGES FOR SALE—SEVEN STANDS, [illegible] 2[illegible]

A GOOD HORSE AND CART AND HARNESS for sale cheap, together or separate. 51 First st., 1st Land Floor. 2[illegible]

NEW COTTAGE FOR RENT AND NEW FURniture for sale, two blocks from Washington and Second cars, at Twenty-third st. A. SCHEN. [illegible]

FOR SALE—FURNITURE OF LODGING HOUSE of [illegible] rooms; well established; doing good business. Address "A," this office. 1[illegible]

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

MCKENNA'S ADDITION—SITUATED WITHIN A few minutes' [illegible] improvements of the N. P. R. R. Terminal City. Address "Lots," this office, and [illegible] will receive prompt attention.

FOR SALE OR RENT—A FINE 8-ROOM RESIdence, with [illegible] Apply to [illegible] Front st., between Ankeny and Burnside.

FRONT ROOM WITH ALCOVE FOR OFFICE or sleeping room, [illegible] Apply at 53 Taylor, between Second and Third. 2[illegible]

FOR SALE, OR WILL TRADE FOR PROPERTY in Portland, [illegible] with full lot; [illegible] situated on S. First st., [illegible] of J. V. ALLEN. 1[illegible]

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NOTICE.—I HAVE THIS DAY SOLD TO MESSRS. BLAKE, McFall & Co. my stock of paper, stationery, etc., in my store at the corner of the Oak Kamas Paper Company, at 205 Front st., Portland, and would ask from the trade for them the same favors and patronage that I have always received from them. In retiring from business I desire to return my sincere thanks to my friends and customers for their liberal patronage during the past year, and would request that all bills due me be presented for settlement at once. Thanking you for your favors in the past, I remain, yours truly, [illegible]

CARD.

I HAVE THIS DAY SOLD TO MESSRS. BLAKE, McFall & Co. my stock of paper, stationery, etc., in my store at the corner of the Oak Kamas Paper Company, at 205 Front st., Portland, and would ask from the trade for them the same favors and patronage that I have always received from them. In retiring from business I desire to return my sincere thanks to my friends and customers for their liberal patronage during the past year, and would request that all bills due me be presented for settlement at once. Thanking you for your favors in the past, I remain, yours truly, [illegible]

Buy or sell, buy purchase the stock of the Clackamas Paper Co., at 205 Front st., and dissolved. It is for your interest to [illegible] especially [illegible] Eastern [illegible] and [illegible] Portland. Orders will be promptly filled at lowest prices. Whether I [illegible] New York to place our orders with the mills direct, we are [illegible] quantities and can save the trade that benefit. We are also [illegible] Portland agents for the [illegible] paper bags, and Clackamas Mills [illegible] Straight and Square Bottom Bags, which are the best [illegible] of book and news envelopes and all [illegible] supplied by the trade, and solicit [illegible] [illegible] of their patronage. It will be our aim to give satisfaction. BLAKE, ROBBINS, McFALL & CO., 102 Front street, Portland.

January 1, 1884.

BLAKE, ROBBINS, McFALL & CO
SUCCESSORS TO
CLACKAMAS PAPER CO.,
Importers and Dealers
IN PAPER OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
News, Book, Flats and Ledger Papers, Letter Heads, Bill Heads and Statement Envelopes, Cards, and Card Board, Straw & Binders' Board, Etc., Etc., together with a Full Line of Cotton & Hemp Bagand Salmon net Twines.

Agents for Whiting & Co., Berkley, Dunton & Co., Weston's Ledger Papers, Fall Mountain Paper Co., Crescent Flats Papers, Dexter Folder, Blake, Robbins & Co.'s Celebrated Manila Paper Sheet, Chickamauga Mills Manilla and straw wrapping, Shattuck & Hitchcock's Lake and Rolled Print Boards.

108 First street, Portland, Or.

TACOMA LOTS
FOR SALE.
Cheap and on Easy Terms.
W. H. CRIGHTON,
Sec. Terminal Land Co.
At Stinson, Church & Co's.
Corner Front and Ash sts. P. O. Drawer 22

C. H. BACON,
Importer and Dealer in Cumberland, Lehigh, Cannel & Domestic COAL, CHARCOAL
And FOUNDRY COKE.
Office—Fourth and Main.
Yard—E. Mo., bet. Fourth and Fifth.
Telephone No. 851. Portland, Or.

We will soon introduce
WHAT?
PIONEER CANDY FACTORY,
Established 1853.
BERNHEIM & ALTSCHUL,
Manufacturing Confectioners,
Dealers in Candies, Nuts and Confectioners' Supplies.
64 First st., Portland, Or. P. O. Box 188.

CATARRH!
Those suffering from this disease and wishing to be CURED
can obtain immediate relief and a permanent cure by the use of my specialty.
Hours from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 7.
A. SEV

...AND COMMISSION...
...LMAN & CO.,
...COMMISSION MERCHANT
...ts, Dept. Pine and Ash.
...OF REAL ESTATE, FURNI...
...Horses, Carts, Buggies, Etc.
...SALE DAYS—Tuesday and ...
...A. M.

...AUCTION SALE
OF MERCHANDISE
...Salesroom, No. 42 First street.
...ESDAY, JAN. 22,
...o'clock, A. M.
...of which is now complete...
...ber 1st, now on hand, ...
...Jewelry, Clocks, Watches, ...
...Cutlery, Blankets, ...
...Quilts and Shawls.
...AN & CO., Auctioneers.

...O'CONNOR,
Commission Merchant
...st and Flour.
...ssy Furniture & Mdse. sale...
...Duties Sole.
...Portland, Or.

...R AND APPRAISER.
...Y, Auctioneer & Appraiser
...y, Will buy and sell Real Estate
...ld secured. Agent for Wm. ...
...ress 37 W. Park st., Portland, ...

...N AND ENGINEERS.
...T. N. OELRICH,
...RS AND DRAUGHTSMEN
...n Brass or Iron Work.
...North Block, Tiled and Oak sts.

...ON MERCHANTS.
...N, GENERAL COMMISSION
...Business Agents, 52 Front st. (2)
...COMMISSION AND FOR...
...Portland, Or.
...J. C. MILLER, W. E. WEST...
...ness in general and 27 yea...
...Washington and Oregon.
...O, COMMISSION & FIRE D...
...& CO., SHIP BROKERS a...
...North Front street.
...TEL & CO., COMMISSION
...& N. Front st., Portland, Or.
...& CO., SHIPPING AND
...Chants' Exchange, Portland, Or.
...ER & CO., SHIPPING AND
...Front st., Portland, Or.

...ALE GROCERS.
...TEL & CO., WHOLESALE
...Front st., Portland, Or.
...S, WHOLESALE GRO...
...and Dens., Portland, Or.
...SON, WHOLESALE GRO...
...Merchants, 60 to 66 N. ...

...ELLOTT, WHOLESALE GRO...
...and Commission Merchants, ...
...Portland, Or.

...NPOWDER.
...CO., AGENTICAL POWDER...
...and Vinegar, Portland, Or.

...FARM MACHINERY.
...CO., Nos. 6 AND 8 FRONT ...
...dealers in all kinds of farming ...
...mowers, reapers and binders, ...
...Island Corn Planters, Doherty ...
...etc. Send for catalogue.

...L & CO., WHOLESALE FARM
...dealers in agricultural imple...
...ing wagons, buggies, carriages, ...
...tionary, saddlery, harness, ...
...specialty; rubber and leather ...
...etc.

...DSHIP, PRACTICAL MEC...
...ufacturer; Gradual Reduction and ...
...; General agents for all kinds ...
...Main st., Salem, Or.

...& CO., NO. 8 N. FRONT ST.
...importers and dealers in a kinds ...
...in any quantity. 20nd

...CO., SOLE AGENTS MUCK...
...Manufacturer, Canton Plow Thresher, ...
...Wagons, Portland, Or. Thresh...

...CO., MAKERS OF ENGINES, ...
...of Saw Mills, Iron Planers, Shin...
...Bolt Cutters and Clay Mills. ...

...FILE WORKS. SKILLS FOR ...
...of finishing mill machinery, ...
...circulars.

...AND TOBACCO.
...& CO., WHOLESALE ...
...ts, 105 Front st. cor. Portland, ...
...Business & Co., San Francisco.

...AND FINDINGS.
...HENRY, 101 FRONT STREET, ...
...ton and Stark streets, Leather ...
...Shipping, Belting, Hose, etc.

...BOOTS AND SHOES.
...KER & CO., WHOLESALE ...
...ts 68 Front st., Portland.

...IRON AND STEEL.
...ART & CO., HARDWARE, ...
...Carriage Material, Shelf ...
...Smiths' Coal, corner First and ...
...Irving st.

...CO., IRON WORKERS AND JOB...
...and Wine streets, Portland, Or.

...LE DRY GOODS.
...CO., FANCY DRY GOODS ...
...76 Front st.

...MBER.
...LERS AND BUYERS.—THE ...
...for sale, in lots to suit, a full ...
...ing Lumber.

...USTIC and FINISHING ...
...TERIAL.
...fullest ready for cabin nation ...
...left at my office, S. W. corner of ...
...and Front, Portland, Oregon, for which ...
...Mills, will receive prompt at...
...H. M. BENEDICT.
...R. ROBERTS, Insolvent debtor.

...ablished 1851.

...Davis & Co.
...importing
...ale Druggists
...ing Proprietary Medicines, ...
...Oils, Mills, Etc., Etc.
...d 24 Front Street
...Cor. Stark,
...nd, Oregon.

...AY'S
...ED
...EAS
...M
...ishment. We do not resort ...
...puffing. Intended to deceive ...
...we say packages which do not ...
...or mark purports. No short ...
...can be had of us. Our aim is ...

...TY and PURE TEAS.
...& GOWEN,
...st., Portland, Or.

...L-COMPOUNDED
COCOA.
...EAKFAST.
...knowledge of the natural laws ...
...which govern the operations of ...
...digestion and nutrition, and by ...
...application of the fine properties of ...
...Epps has provided our breakfast ...
...a delicately flavored beverage ...
...may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the ...
...judicious use of such articles of diet that a ...
...constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us, ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette.
...Sold in packets only by grocers, labelled thus:
...JAMES EPPS & CO.,
...Homœopathic Chemists,
...London, England.
...Also Richards & Hardman, Ho...
...50—198 WALKER & CRADDOCK

...CHILD & CO.,
...GGISTS,
...DRUGGISTS AND
...ENTS FOR
...als, Perfumery,
...TICLES, SPONGES,
...ruggists' Sundries.
...Street, cor. Morrison.
...Portland, Or.

...TIVEN THAN CHARLES ...
...Assignee, in the State ...
...this day of December, 1883, ...
...to me, the undersigned, ...
...ment to and possession of all ...
...to secure creditors, and ...
...debtors who convey to me ...
...of creditors, approved by the ...
...ing notice is hereby given ...
...ng hereby notified to make ...
...at the office of said Assignee, ...
...building, corner First and Pine ...
...on, within three months from ...
...Portland, Or., 4th day of ...
...1883. H. M. BENEDICT, ...
...Assignee.

...WOOD! WOOD!
...PER LOAD—FROM THE ...
...ted at cabin in the woods ...
...ply standing in the ...
...W. M. LAMB.

The Oregonian.

MORNING, JAN 22, 1884.

...Office at Portland, Or., as second ...
...class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
...INVARIABLY PREPAID—IN ADVANCE.

...Oregonian, per year	$ 10 00
...per month	1 00
...Sunday, per year	12 00
...per year	2 50
...Weekly, per year	3 00
...per month	25
...Oregonian, Sunday excepted	8 00
...delivered, Sunday excepted	75
...delivered, Sunday included	90

...Remember, 30, 1883. 184.

PORTLAND, JAN. 21, 1884. 7 P. M.

Height above Zero.	Change last 6 Hours.	Thermometer.	Wind	Rain fall.	Weather.
29.65	.01	34	S	.02	Cloudy
29.60	.02	36	NE	.00	Clear
29.55	.01	48	S	.00	Clear
29.35	.04	48	NW	.00	Clear
29.25		48	NW	.00	Clear
29.25	.01	46	NW	.00	Clear
29.45		40	E	.00	Clear

...Thermometer, 30, 1883. 184.

CITY.

...Marshal Anderson, caught by po...
...and Emig in the act of running off ...
...Sabin's ducks, was arraigned ...
...the charge of larceny. He said he would ...
...pay for them, but the justice informed him ...
...offense was one which his jurisdiction ...
...not extend to, and one which was ...
...punishable at once. The case was a plain ...
...and conclusive conclusive of the guilt of the ...
...The evidence came within a few minutes ...
...and was shown further that the prisoner ...
...attempted to make his escape from the jail, and ...
...assisted by officer Barry had nearly died of ...
...from the cell window. The judge in ...
...sentence remarked that there had been a ...
...complaint of late about poultry being ...
...which had become almost impossible for ...
...to keep poultry in this city. Several instances ...
...mentioned where it was almost impossible to ...
...the chickens. He sentenced the prisoner ...
...to the county jail. Joseph Bilger, who ...
...with seven bottles of wine, said he was ...
...buying the stuff, but not guilty of stealing ...
...was continued till to-day. Captain C. ...
...with the larceny of $1 25 from E. ...
...pleaded not guilty, and his case was ...
...Monday. Ed Kelly, a notorious drunk...
...fine for thirty days. The list of battered, ...
...and blear-eyed drunks in the dock shows a ...
...of the dives have been suppressed, the ...
...are standing to business in the usual ...

...HOUSE OPENED.—Yesterday the new ...
...corner Fourth and Alder, was thrown ...
...inspection. All day long and up to ...
...the skylight, stairs, corridors and rooms were ...
...visitors. Without entering into a ...
...description of the arrangements, it may be said ...
...Hilton is a well arranged, well fur...
...is well ventilated, clean, neat hotel; not as ...
...as the Baldwin in San Francisco ...
...comfortable, and good enough for any...
...special mention. The office—which ...
...cheerful place, and was filled last ...
...number of old residents who recalled the ...
...They vouched for the reduction ...
...Portland what the Hilton would be in Portland what the ...
...was ten years ago—a place where ...
...aggregate, and work certain of meeting ...
...the acquaintance of new ones. Added to ...
...the establishment of his enterprise, ...
...wishes of his many friends bear fruit, ...
...will retire from hotel life independently ...

...LAW SUIT.—The Oregonian railway ...
...finished, through its London attorneys, ...
...Robertson, "intimated" to the state ...
...yesterday that its earnest desire was to ...
...a defendant in it by not pending se...
...E. G. Hughes vs. the Willamette Valley ...
...Company. Hughes brings suit for money ...
...due for services rendered as an itiner...
...and named company. The Oregonian ...
...simply intended, by its London attorneys, ...
...giving it full ownership of certain ...
...the Willamette valley company, claims a ...
...is represented as a defendant in the suit ...
...Hughes. This was granted by Justice ...
...It is not often that any person or company ...
...a legal stand up in a law suit and "own ...
...begin of nearly every one who is attached ...
...to sheriff. But the Oregonian company now ...
...this, and if it can promptly the case may ...
...the thanks of court reporters.

...—Four suits for divorce came up ...
...circuit court yesterday afternoon. The ...
...of Ella vs. Wells was referred to Samuel R. ...
...will take testimony and report the find...
...facts and conclusions of law to the court. In ...
...case of Behnsen vs. Behnsen the defendant ...
...twenty days further time to answer to the ...
...The attorneys for John Ramage demur...
...the complaint of Maria Ramage, his wife. ...
...demurrer was overruled by Judge Smith and ...
...answer ordered to file his answer within five ...
...The last suit taken up, and one which was ...
...heard but a short time since, was that of Henry ...
...against Hattie J. Cass. The attorney for the ...
...asked to the court that Mrs. Cass was at no ...
...the hearing in Astoria, Multnomah, and asked ...
...order authorizing the publication of the sum...
...and the serving of a copy upon the defendant ...
...The order was granted.

...STORY OF MONEY.—If any one doubts that ...
...a humorist Portland, that is among the la...
...middle classes, let him offer for less than ...
...price something that the people want, and ...
...other purchasers he will find. Several ...
...First street stores are holding clearances ...
...and believing that Ponna pays, have marked ...
...their goods down to figures somewhat less than ...
...the holiday season. One large dry goods house ...
...obliged to close its doors for fifteen minutes ...
...from during the day to wait on customers ...
...inside, and delivering packages on the day ...
...to end of the question. In fact, business ...
...where reduced prices is equal to count...
...while retail trade generally is equal to coun...
...expectations.

...ALLEGED SWINDLING.—The second case ...
...yesterday in the state circuit court was that ...
...Nott & Co. vs. Hyman Gallick, the bank...
...and shoe dealer, and the persons alleged to ...
...connected with him in stealing to swindle the ...
...plaintiffs, viz: William Gallick, B. ...
...and J. Heilbronner, proffered creditors ...
...Hyman Gallick. The subsequent of ...
...Nott & Co.'s complaint has already been ...
...public, and as yet the defendants, either col...
...or separately, have made no reply. Judge ...
...has not yet refused that they shall file their ...
...within five days from date.

...SUMMONS TO REPORT.—In the suit of ...
...Harris vs. E. Martin, Judge Smith has or...
...the receiver, J. A. Taggart, to report to the ...
...forthwith, the present condition of the affairs ...
...which he has been handling, and how ...
...may can be realized in settling up, to the ...
...thereof. The action was ...
...instituted by the receiver alleging his inability ...
...as ordered by the court, to the joint till ...
...Martin. The latter claim that there is due ...
...to joint $17,000 over and above all debts.

...HIGH WATER.—Owing to enormity low in the ...
...the steamer Almota was unable to reach ...
...on Sunday last, and was compelled to lie ...
...quarries at Whitel's ferry, seven miles ...
...The steamer Spokane, on her arri...
...from Dalles City from Fort Dalles, ...
...compelled to lay up for the same ...
...There is no probability that the detention ...
...be of long duration, as the season ...
...advanced and the snow become so pow...
...cold spell is among the improbabilities, ...
...think mind likely to freeze up at any time ...

...NOTICE CLOTHING.—Last night about 8 ...
...several persons were in sight, some ...
...individual stepped up to a "dummy" ...
...Washington's house on First street, took ...
...an overcoat, wooled jacket pantaloons ...
...walked coolly up to Ainer street and ran ...
...block at the foot of the street. No one ...
...stop him, and when the proprietors were ...
...of the loss, somehow or other, the thief ...
...vanished. There hasn't been a night this ...
...there was greater temptation to steal ...

...OFFICIAL MEETING.—Owing to the de...
...of the city treasury, there exists ...
...ity for having its appropriations for ...
...passed, that the tax list may be extended ...
...the hands of the city treasurer as ...
...possible, that the collection of taxes ...
...season at once and the city officials be ena...
...pay their salaries, Mayor Chapman has ...
...to call a special meeting of the com...
...for Thursday evening next.

...INSURANCE.—Mr. George S. Morrison, ...
...sold by the new C. R. & N. directory to ...
...various lines of the company, is expect...
...at Wallula Junction to-night. He will ...
...the following officers of the road, ...
...here this morning by special train: J. ...
...superintendent of the railway division; H. S. ...
...assistant chief engineer; C. J. Smith, ...
...; G. B. Shaw, road master, and M. V. ...
...superintendent of bridges.

...AN AFFIDAVIT.—The universal criticism ...
...of the city of Walla Walla for holding ...
...to have access to the records of the ...
...opening the eyes of the auburn haired ...
...how vigorously denying that he ...
...But his old jeans never did ...
...of all the papers in the city are ...
...fact.

...RUNAWAY.—From the first the chief at...
...this whisky ring has done his best to ...
...courses of justice in the liquor cases. He ...
...whisky in bond, and with unanimous vigilance ...
...lawyers for the defendants, by delay and ...
...inconsistency. He has at last got from ...
...all he deserves.

...FUNERAL.—The remains of Cap...
...were placed beside those of his ...
...near Shedds, Linn county, on Sun...
...Rev. J. H. Irvine of Albany deliv...
...an discourse. There was a large ...

...Addressed an important communi...
...diggers, dated January 8, is ad...
...Spring, particulars, as the time ...
...expedition were referred to, and five men ...
...given if the information given ...
...substantiated and action taken.

OPENING OF THE JANUARY TERM.—The first day of the January term of the state circuit court for Multnomah county began yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Judge Seneca Smith presiding. The swearing of the grand jury and the appointment and instruction of the officers of the court occupied the remainder of the forenoon. The bailiffs are Thos. Mountain and T. C. Powell, both of whom occupied the positions under Judge Bell. R. M. Southworth was appointed crier, vice Dan Kelly. Mr. Southworth's appointment had been requested by every county official, and was a fitting reward for his faithful services as janitor of the courthouse for several years. The position he left vacant was filled by the appointment of Mr. J. Dooling. The following jurors constitute the grand jury for the present term: J. D. Coughlin, Wm. Payne, Calvin Cleave, Irving Cheeseman, Andy Aberham Ford, John Lake and A. M. Berry. The first sworn on the upper floor, 15 from answers made to all questions, regarding their qualifications to act. D. Sharp was sworn before A. Meier, but upon being closely questioned by the district attorney it developed that he had served as a juror once before within a year, and that no hours was completed. Thos. Jones was taken with the grand jury because of the importance of the cases on the docket. He already has one thereon for them during the term. Then the jury was sworn and instructed by the court, after which they left to be empaneled until to-day. The cases to be examined by them to-day and to-morrow are charged with murder. Conviction is unlikely. Less than seventeen to twenty days for the grand jury in this case. The list of petit jurors has already been published, and the following named were passed by the court from serving: A. C. Breckenridge, W. G. Saxon, George Almdt, D. W. Hamilton, D. Bell, E. Hirsch, H. M. Rafferty, E. Cohn, Jr., Joseph De Lay, Joseph Delbridge and Daniel Leahy. The three following names were returned by the sheriff and excused: Frank Bundick, W. R. Abrams, J. Loewenberg and James Lockard. In the afternoon the court disposed of a large number of business cases, but none of any importance to the regular record published as follows:

VICTORY FOR THE INSURANCE COMPANY.—In the United States circuit court yesterday Judge Deady delivered a lengthy opinion in the case of A. H. Sparer vs. the Home Mutual Insurance Company, in favor of the defendant, dismissing the plaintiff's bill, holding the costs upon the plaintiff. The action was brought to recover an alleged mistake in a policy of insurance. The French firm, owners of a warehouse in Portland, procured said supplies for the above named insurance company, of which they were the agents, to receive said insurance applications for in necessary for a policy on the same as the property of their indorsement under the impression that the insurance came within the limits of the policy, and upon the destruction of the property by fire presented their claim for insurance, and the question was submitted to the court, leaving the policy good

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 22, 1884.

AT GRANDMOTHER'S.

Under the shade of the poplars still,
Lilacs and locusts in clumps between,
Roses over the windows a ll
In the dear old house, with its doors of green.

Never were seen such spotless floors,
Never such shining rows of tin,
While the rose leaf odors that came through the doors
Told of the peaceful life within.

Here is the room where the children slept,
Grandmamma's children, tired with play,
And the famous drawer where the cakes were kept,
Shrewsbury cookies and caraway.

The garden walks where the children ran,
To smell the flowers and learn their names,
The children thought since the world began
Were nevergush garden walks for games.

There were tulips and asters in regular lines
Sweet williams and marigolds on their stalks,
Bachelor's buttons and sweet pea vines,
And box that bordered the narrow walks.

Pure white it lay stood cornerwise
From mantle were yellow and poppies red,
And the summer jasmine looked up in surprise
At the kingly hollyhocks overhead.

Nesting glories and larkspur stood
Close to the neighborly ladyhill;
Cabbage roses and southernwood
Roamed through the beds at their own sweet will.

Many a year has passed since then,
Grandmamma's house is empty and still;
Grandmother's babies have grown to men,
And the roses grow wild o'er the window sill.

Never again shall the children meet
Under the poplars gray and tall;
Never again shall the careless feet
Dance through the rose-lea' scented hall.

Grandmamma's welcome is heard no more,
And the children are scattered far and wide,
And the world is a larger place than of yore,
But hallowed memories still abide.

And the children are better men to-day
For the cakes and rose leaves and garden walks,
And grandmother's welcome so far away,
And the old sweet williams on their stalks.

—Arthur Wentworth Eaton.

THREE LITTLE EMIGRANTS.

The Continent.

Near the little German village of Niederhoff lived a man whose name was Hermann Abt. His wife, Ursula, worked with her husband to till their small strip of garden land, and took care of the cottage home and the children. They were an industrious, happy family, yet sometimes the father seemed troubled; and when Ursula would ask him why he sat so silent and sad by the fireside, he would reply:

"It is about the children I am thinking."

But Ursula knew that the children had good pumpernickel and sauer kraut and potatoes, and now and then a bit of meat; their clothes were warm and clean, and their wooden-soled shoes such as other peasant children wore. Besides they were rosy and merry and stout. Ulrich was 10 years old. Already he could take the vegetables to market in his dog-cart, and no boy in the parish school was as bright as he. What, then, could trouble the heart of the father?

One frosty December night Ulrich came from the village with a letter in the pocket of his blouse. It was not often that messages from the great, bustling world came to the peaceful cottage, and wife and children drew curiously around the table while Hermann broke the seal.

"It's from Hans Schafer, who went to seek his fortune in America," he said.

The letter was slowly read aloud. It told of prosperity in the new world, and promised help if Hermann and Ursula would come to Illinois to make a home as he had done.

Ursula laughed at the thought.

"Ach, nein!" she exclaimed, "we shall stay in the fatherland. Are we not quite comfortable and happy now?"

Then she carried her two little girls off to bed, and told them a story of a naughty child who stuck her finger in an unbaked Christmas cake and could not pull it out again.

But the father did not sleep that night, and all the next day he worked as if in a dream, saying, "And so, indeed, he was. He was dreaming of a land of foreign speech and foreign customs, where industry was bountifully rewarded; where freedom was more a fact than a theory; where the bondage of caste was broken; where his Ulrich, who loved his books, might become a great man; where Elsie and little Gretchen might live a broader life than their simple-hearted mother had ever dreamed of. After two days the doting father told the boy the dream.

"My child," he said, "for a long year I have been trying to decide—now it is done. The mother and I must go to America. As soon as we find work and get a bit of a home and gold enough thou shalt bring the little sisters to us over the seas. Americans are friendly to the stranger, and the dear God will care for thee!"

Ulrich was glad and confident. But alas! for poor Ursula! The mother-heart was well-nigh broken at the thought of leaving her children, her home and native land. Yet soon she, too, began to be eager to verify the promises of the New World, and between smiles and tears the decisive letter was written. Their simple preparations were soon made. February came and brought the parting day. Ulrich, Elsie and Gretchen were to remain with their Aunt Katrina.

"It shall not be long, my children," said the father, with quivering lips, as he lifted little Gretchen in his arms.

"No, dear, it shall not be long," sobbed poor Ursula, with tears pouring down her cheeks. "It shall be before the Christmas-time, or we will work day and night and save every groschen to send to you."

* * * * *

The months in the new world went swiftly by. At first the language and customs seemed very hard to understand; but day by day, with unflagging industry, the father and mother toiled and studied. Hans Shafer, true to his promise, had found work for his friends with a gardener, where Hermann's strength and skill, and Ursula's faithfulness, soon won the confidence and regard of their employer.

One day Mr. Martin came upon the pleasant-faced German woman bending over a bed of lettuce, with one hand busily pulling up the weeds, with the other brushing the tears from her eyes. She was talking softly to herself. He stopped, and Ursula, looking up suddenly, saw a kind but curious gaze upon her.

She began to tell her story, half in broken English, half in the mother-tongue, but with an artless pathos more eloquent than words.

"Hermann makes toys by night," she added, "and I knit stockings and shawls to sell to the Germina in Milwaukee. But the children will not be here for the Christmas festivals! The money comes so slowly though Hermann drinks no more a glass of beer, but puts the money in the box for the children."

From that day money came much faster to the strangers. There were ready purchasers for the German toys, and they brought a larger price than in the home markets. Soon they were settled in a cozy little home of four rooms, and by the middle of September, with Martin's help, the father sent the tickets and the money for the children's long journey.

If you could only have seen the glad faces, if you could only have heard the glad shouts when that package arrived! You would know then surely that the hearts of German children are just as eager and loving as those of American children.

Aunt Katrina's home would be very lonely without them, she said. And how could such little fairies go so far alone? But there was the letter for the captain and money for warm clothing and tickets to bring them all to way to Germania, where the father and mother were working and waiting for them.

"We are not afraid to trust Ulrich with his sisters," wrote the father. "The boy grew manly and strong in spirit as with growing years he read those words.

So Aunt Katrina gave the three children into the care of the genial German captain. Then she put in dear little Gretchen's hand a tiny testament to carry all the way. On the fly-leaf were written the names and ages of the children, where they came from and where they wished to go—for Aunt Katrina was a sensible woman!—and these words were added:

"Jesus said, 'Whosoever shall give to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only, he shall in no wise lose his reward.'"

And now came the long, long voyage of six soon days. Passengers and crew were kind to the captain's little friends. Many a happy hour they passed on deck, watching the waves and listening to the songs of the sailors. Sometimes the odd little group would be seen nestled in the shelter of the cabin, Gretchen fast asleep with her curly head against her brother's shoulder, and her testament tightly clasped in her hand. When a storm came and the good ship rolled heavily in the trough of the black billows, Ulrich was fearless and cheerful. He told the sisters fairy tales, and watched by their cot-like berth every night, till the big blue eyes were fast closed in sleep.

* * * * *

New York city looked like a new world to these simple peasant children. There were forests of masts, and great ocean steamships and crowded steam ferry boats. A multitude of Americans were waiting to welcome long absent friends. There was laughing and crying and shouting and motioning.

"I see my papa! I see my papa!" exclaimed little Elsie all at once, as the ship drew slowly near the crowded pier.

"No, no, Elsie! I see Liebman, too, but it is not our papa. Oh, I wish it was!"

"What is it?"

No, it was the father of the little German boy who had played with them during the voyage, and who had come with his mother from Berlin. It made our little folks cry for joy and envy to see him welcome his child, but Ulrich quickly mastered away his tears.

"Do not cry, sisters," he said. "After two days more we shall see papa, and the mother, too."

So they watched the passengers leave the ship, watched the custom house officers inspecting the luggage, and, hand-in-hand, when the November twilight was fading into night and the great city was all aglow with lights, came their kind captain.

"Come now, my children," he said, cheerily. "To-night you shall stay with me. To-morrow I shall start you off for Germania."

Tightly holding each other's hands they followed him down the half-deserted pier to a carriage which was waiting for him. A steward followed with their box and the captain's handbag, and soon they were rolling away through the streets.

Sitting on those soft cushions the little emigrants gazed about them in wondering, awe-struck silence! Surely they had sailed away into fairyland! They were a prince and princesses riding in a carmson chariot through streets paved with precious stones to the door of a splendid palace!

A colored servant put the old dears to bed. Poor little Gretchen cried for fright. She had never seen a negro before.

In the morning the captain took them to the Chicago express. They kissed his hand gratefully when he bade them good-by.

And still our wanderers were in fairyland. A wonderful river, the like of which they had never seen, flowed between steep hills, and there were palaces and gardens, and it was winter leaves were crimson and gold, and fly-and-by across the water, great shaggy mountains appeared, the home of goblins and giants.

Now, with all his care, their friend, the rapid lair had not provided those children with food. The little girls were very hungry when the train reached Albany, and Ulrich wanted to leave the car to buy bread. But both Elsie and Gretchen held him back with tears.

"What is the matter, children?" asked a pretty American lady on the next seat. She spoke in very broken German, but she understood when Ulrich answered for his sisters that they were hungry.

"Come with me," she said, and they hastened from the car. She stored the boy he e to buy some sandwiches and cakes, and had her silver cup filled with milk for Gretchen; then back they hurried just as the train was starting. Ulrich and Elsie told their simple story, and Gretchen showed her book, and smiled by her new friend's side, ate the first orange she had ever tasted.

The night was long and dreary to the faithful brother. The kind lady was gone. Hour after hour he watched the sleeping sisters, determined not to close his eyes. Two rough men behind them snored and grumbled. Ulrich did not like them. But as the morning light began to peep he slept through the windows weariness overpowered him, and he slept heavily.

Suddenly Gretchen's cries awakened him.

"Oh, Ulrich! Ulrich!"

One of those bad men had been trying to steal the children's little bag of money. The brave boy sprang to his feet with flashing eyes. Just then the German lieutenant entered the car to put out the lights. He heard the boy's story, and summoned the conductor, who ordered the men out of the car.

At Cleveland Ulrich left his sisters to buy breakfast. Scarcely had he reached the lunch room when the train started up and came into the station on quite a different track. Elsie and Gretchen were safely frightened. They ran to the platform to jump off and find Ulrich. But the brakeman came again to their help and led them back to their seats.

"I will find the brother," he said. "We have yet fifteen minutes. You must stay here."

But Ulrich was not easily found. He had quickly bought the food, and as soon as he could get a cup of milk started back to his sisters. But the train had disappeared. In a frenzy wildly up and down, spilling the milk, and asking everywhere for Elsie and Gretchen. At last, seeing a train just starting, he climbed upon it, supposing it must be the one he sought. Slowly they moved out of the station. Ulrich rushed from car to car, hugging his parcel of food and calling:

"Wo ist Elsie? Wo sind die schwestern?"

"Where are you going, my boy?" asked an old gentleman with a beautiful white beard. He spoke German to the bewildered child.

"I have lost my little sisters. We are going to the parents in Germania."

"You are on the wrong train," exclaimed the man. The bell was rung; the train was stopped. The boy leaped off, his beautiful brown eyes shining with gratitude and hope. "Run along the track. Tell everybody 'Chicago train!' Run!"

How he ran! The kind brakeman had told the conductor about the missing brother, and the train for Chicago was waiting still, but puffing and snorting as if impatient of delay.

The boy dashed into the station breathlessly shouting "Chicago train."

"This way! This way! Over there!" "Run!" "You're too late!" cried the people. But Ulrich saw only the train, the two little faces in an open window, saw them begin to move away, leaped on board as the last second, and away they went.

"I didn't lose the cakes, but the milk is all spilled."

Ulrich was the hero of the car. Several passengers interested themselves in the three odd little waifs, and Gretchen's book was passed from hand to hand. All that day there was no lack of food and care and encouragement.

The captain had telegraphed to Herman Abt, and their father's shining face greeted the children when the train reached Chicago.

There were joyful hearts in one laborer's cottage that dull November night. A hundred questions, interrupted by kisses; a hundred answers choked with embraces, and when at last their tired little ones slept hand-in-hand, the happy father and mother sat and gazed on their sweet faces, and, looking in each other's eyes, thanked the dear God.

They are here before the blessed Christmas time," said Ursula.

THE HOTELS.

ST. CHARLES.
J Dixon, Astoria	G W Brown, Astoria
W H Richardson, S P	A R Reato, McMinnville
Chas H Stockton, Astoria	A A Cleveland, Astoria
Mrs Stockton, do	D H Gerhelt, do
E R Hawes, do	W L Kibb, do
C H Cooper, do	Miss Langerin, do
Chas H Clough, do	Jno Herbert, do
Homer Gibson, do	S Bean, Gray's Harbor
W H Daniels, do	H Heinhberger, Independence
L Perry, Vancouver	J D Griffin, Monroe
L Martins, Astoria	O M Whitney, N Yacoma
E M Ellis & w/, Mountainpolis	L H Nichols, S F
C R Burns, Walla Walla	H P Erickson, Cal Locks
Chas T Manning, Ainsworth	Mrs M Kelly, Cas Locks
Jas Hinds, Pendleton	W P Stark, Milwaukee, Wis
H W Murphy, Seattle	S Kaisler, Jacksonville
H Wilson, Seattle	Chas Richardson, Astoria
E Rogers, N Yamhill	S A Clarke, Salem
T O Jervis, San Jose	E. W Pearson, N Y
H M Staples, Oregon City	Alex Sinclair, Salem
Geo W Lodge, Shamokawa	J Howell, N Yamhill
J W Hume & w/, Astoria	Jas T Berry, Chehalis
G W Proud, do	J R Lobb, LaCenter
W Howell, Independence	W Marshall, Skamokawa
A P Wolverton, Spokane Falls	H M Weatherspoon & w/, Astoria
M S Powell, Albany	A Parker, Independence
W Hampton, Clifton	J M Parrish, Astoria
M Smythes, Yale, B C	H H Newton, Sicklyton
A Siedler, Salem	Miss A Powell, Albany
G W Perry, Oswego	J Miller, Olympia
Mrs M Stevens, Olympia	Chris Trofneson, Salem
G F Dodshon, St Helens	W P Wetmore, Salem
G F Mays, The Dalles	J V Monnahan, Olympia
G Adams, W T	Jas Pendal, St Helens
Wm Hewerin, Canyon City	Lee Boggs, do
Wm Lester, Seattle	D Lee, The Dalles
T Butler, Oregon City	O Ozeig, Astoria

CLARENDON.
P Clark, Montana	V H Upson, Montana
Mrs S Mager & 3 chn, Portland	Miss Hewett, F Grove
Mrs Mager, do	W Gulick & w/, Ainsworth
J Hickey, San Jose	W H Murray, San Jose
W N Gardner, San Jose	C H Frankenfeld, Albany
W P Smith, Albany	J N Barker, Spokane
R Dodge, Roseburg	P S Publicover, Beaverdell
G Taylor, Junction	H Bell, Salem
F Jackson, Salem	C Patterson, Clackamas
	C Gasson, Clackamas

QUEEN'S HOUSE.
J B Forgerson, Winnipeg	F P Brown St Paul
J L Johnson, St Paul	J Finleyson, Portage la P
W Wiley, Forest Grove	L G Harris, Oregon City
Miss Wolfe Boyd, S F	C W Wells, S F
C Adams, S F	Mrs Rose Adams, S F
Fred Felton, S F	Mrs F Felton, S F
Wm Schwerin, S F	Wm Roberts, S F
Charles Norris, S F	Miss Clara Reid, S F
Charles Meyers, S F	Frank Zellenik, S F
Frank Hatch, S F	H Wurtz, S F
L W Clark, S F	Louis Winters, S F
James Raymond, S F	J E Brooks, S F
John Harnish, Helena	Henry Avery, St Louis
F S Dunham, Chehalis	J Hamilton, Chehalis
J Swet, Westport	J H West, Westport
J McClellan, Olympia	W H Waine, Kalo ca
H Harris, Astoria	J Elliott, Chemin
W Lamerich, S Anto, Tex	C C Frazier, Cal crossing
G Van Laugere, Chicago	J W Jackson, Chicago
J N Rogers, Cleveland	J M Cooper, Kalo ca
H H Carter, O & C R R	J F Andrew, K C Mo.
H S Farwell, S F	J S Seward, Iowa
J Dwyer, Seattle	J W Williams, Idaho
R J Sloan, Chicago	J F Morrin, n, Indiana
C A Bryan, Salem	J L Bailey, Salem
H Gilbert, Salem	Wm Scott, Vancouver
N P Cellen, W T	E C Hancock, Boston
Chas Melville, St Louis

During 1883 Germany produced 8,000,000 tons of the total quantity of sugar produced in Europe. The production amounting to 900,000 tons. America produced 850,000 tons, France 425,000, Russia 350,000, Belgium 75,000 and Holland 50,000. Austria-Hungary has the largest number of refineries, and has 227 of these establishments out of a total of 1,201 in Europe.

A slight cold, if neglected, often ends in fatal lung disease. Brown's Bronchial Troches give sure and immediate relief. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cts.

Kaskine 10 cents and the 4 lbs size of an eastern priced 6 lbs. other, for the similar. Oregonian. The best medicine to cure sin in the race.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

MONDAY, Jan. 21.

A fair call in the grocery lines to-day resulted in larger shipments into the interior. The mines are expected to call upon us for a liberal quantity of goods, but this expectation may not be fully met. As yet few orders have been placed here, although the rush into the mines has evidently begun. At Spokane Falls there is 150 tons of freight awaiting transportation into the mines. It is entirely probable that a goodly portion of this trade will be supplied by other dock holding centers.

The two per cent dividend of the O. R. & N. Co. is payable February 1.

Land sales of the N. P. R. R. for six months ending December 31, last, were 291,188 acres, at $1,207,326, and town lots the value of $66,850. The total amount of sales were $1,274,61. For the same time in 1882 the sales were 3,097 acres at $4,333,620, and town lots to the value of $66,358. Total sales $1,471,793. The average price per acre in 1883 was $4 30, and in 1882 $3 73.

The gross earnings of the N. P. R. R. for 1883 were $6,801,128, an increase of $2,520,111 over 1882. The O. R. & N. Co.'s earnings for '83 were $3,557,321, an increase of $522,456 over 1882.

The net earnings of the O. R. & N. R. for the first eleven mon ths in 1883 were $2,80,607; and of the O. R. Co. $1,276,067.

Railway stocks irregular to-day. O. R. & N. closed ½ better after touching 50. Texas closed down to 22¾, a drop for the day of 1¼. The N. P. were the principal sufferers. Mail advices say the announced determination by the O. R. & N. Co. to place a new mortgage of $ 4,250,000 on its property created a stir. Of the $6,000,000 to be issued to retire the existing debt and $1,750,000 is to be set aside for the 5 per cent. scrip outstanding, leaving about $2,000,000 to be used for other purposes. This mortgage will be made an additional issue of bonds, the stock not being increased. The Palouse branch and other roads are to be acquired by the O. R. & N. Co.

Overland receipts include 201 pigs pigiron, 6 cases citron, 115 cubs butter, 10 cubs hams, 67 ns canned goods, 7 pkgs tobacco.

The following letter from Woodburn, to day's date, shows that our correspondent is not inclined to vary from his original letter. There is little doubt but Mr. Evans has gone to forcible extremes to work up his scheme, and articles evidently written by him in his paper, is strong evidence in favor of the truth of Mr. Loughanlin's position:

EDITOR OREGONIAN: As Mr. Evans has seen fit to deny what I said here, I shall try to quote his own words as near as I can remember. He said: "There was a collusion between the cashier and the clerk to get rid of Portland for the withholding of the quotations of pork; there was money used, and as to the amount I leave you to draw your own conclusions." He also left the impression on the minds of those present that he was honest, a reformer and an honest man, as well as the press, were in the habit of doctoring or withholding the proper quotations. He was then asked the question of how he would get his quotations. In answer, he said: "I will get their from the Milwaukee boards of the daily papers of Portland, and have them telegraphed to me every week." Mr. Evans is not satisfied let him come to Woodburn with an Oregonian reporter and I will prove what I have written by good, reliable men. Said Mr. Grainger him to come with me to-day and I will clear up all misunderstanding.

JOHN S. LOUGHANLIN.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 48 hours: 1,078 ctls wheat, 3,830 ft flour, 11,56 ctls bags flour, 1165 ctls millstuff, 55 sks potatoes, 1045 lbs hides, 23 lbs wool, 25 cs eggs, 45 bxs fruit, 17 pkgs butter, 185 lbs hay, 100 bdls tow. Also 143 ctls wheat, 700 bdls flour, 2362 lbs hides from the coast re ucts.

FREIGHTS—Nothing moving and there seems no prospect of early business. Meanwhile ships are unwilling to submit to a decline, and tonnage is piling up along the coast.

WHEAT—Our market is without life, and there are no offerings. Probably 81 72½ would be a fair quotation for valley. Millers are doing no more than necessary, having plenty of flat parcel wheat on hand. Abroad the markets are slow and steadily growing weaker to sell. Late mail and telegraphic advices from India state that the state of the weather in Bengal promises an improvement in the crops. Prospects are also said to be good in the Bombay presidency. In fact in India all markets is very dull and tending downward. South Australian advices, November 27, state that the prospects there as to an exceptionally grand crop in New Zealand the harvest had toward but all seems promising well. Latest advices from the Argentine Republic speak in high terms of the wheat harvest in all of the provinces. In Buenos Ayres the wheat crop has a smaller acreage than last year.

FLOUR—Is ample more than enough for local needs, and the shipping movement is slow. Value shows no change as regards local jobbing prices.

OATS—Market continues soft by reason of the quantity of poor coming to hand. Consignments are sometimes closed out at an apparent sacrifice, but holding is unchanged. The grade at ruin of sales are at 1½@1½.

POTATOES—Quiet and very easy in tone at 35@ white 60c is bid for choice. More is coming than, and then only in a small way.

HOPS—The market is bare of any important movement, and inquiries is quiet.

APPLES—Sale to choice selling at $1 25@1 75, with supplies reasonable.

POULTRY—Very little on the street to-day. Chickens sold at $5 10@6. For ducks it was stated that $20 was possible, but this is a fancy figure. $12@15 is more probable. A good demand is looked for all week.

EGGS—Market rat or slower at 35c, but stocks are not excessive

BUTTER—Quiet.

The Isle of Iris will be up to-morrow.

The Bucmaster went over to Astoria to-day for four.

The Columbia reached San Francisco at 1:20 A. M.

The Chester Lotsworth moored at the foot of C street, to discharge.

The Bark Lodestock and Bark Merrychire, grain laden, cleared out to-day.

Markets by Telegraph.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.

Weather foggy; wind light northeast.

Receipts—Wheat, 17,600 ctls; flour 2000 ½ sks; corn, 3,300 centals; potatoes, 2000 sks; eggs, 1000 doz.

Freights—Market dull, rates nominal; unchanged; registered for wheat, in port, engaged, 47,000 tons; disengaged, 16,000 tons; to arrive, 14,000 tons.

Wheat—Spot market weak and dull; cash or prices are unchanged, but sellers find it difficult in obtaining extreme figures; No. 1, asking $1 72½, top bid, $1 72½ paid, No. 2 white, buyer, the season, $1 80@ asks.

Flour—Offerings liberal, market inactive.

Barley—Spot steady and quiet; sales, $1 02½@1 03½; futures low; No. 1 feed, May, seller'd option, $1 11, seller, the season, $1 04@1 05; buyer, the season, $1 10@1 11½.

Oats—Quiet; 21 bags, $1; Nebraska, offering $1 55.

Potatoes—Burbanks, red, 90@1 05; Peerless, 1 00; Early Rose, 1 00@1 10; sweet potatoes, 1 75@2 00; buyers supply the sacks; Salinas, 1 00@1 10.

Onions—Quiet, with no change in prices, choice, $1 50@1 60; market dull and prices easy; Tomatoes, 1 50@2; market dull and prices easy; Tomatoes, shipping, market dull and prices easy; Lemons, supply the sacks; Salinas, 1 00@1 10.

Onions—Quiet, with no change in prices, choice, $1 50@1 60; market dull and prices easy; Tomatoes, shipping, market dull and prices easy; Lemons, supply the sacks; Salinas, 1 00@1 10.

Peas—Dull and quietly lower; long wool 75@85; $1; medium 80@90; 40.

Salmon—Quiet, with no change in prices, choice Kings, 8½@9; Columbia rivers, 8@8½; Sacramento, 7½@8; Russian River, 7½@8; Eel River, 7½@8; Humboldt, 7½@8; Alaska, 7½@8; Columbia, 7½@8